They can also program transponders, replace batteries, and repair car doors with broken locks. Having access to key codes is very useful because there are all kinds of reasons that a car owner or driver might need a replacement car key. Sometimes car keys are broken or otherwise damaged beyond repair. Sometimes they get lost. Sometimes a car has a new driver and they need their own key to operate the car with. Regardless of the reason a car key replacement is needed, The Key Guys are available to help with their 24/7 mobile locksmith service.
