Dordrecht, Netherlands based iProven would like to let customers who suspect they are pregnant know about their FMH-139 pregnancy test kit. The test kit offers optimal sensitivity to detect pregnancies accurately and rapidly, with results being produced within five minutes in most cases. It provides all the reassurance that one needs from a pregnancy test. From the day of the user's expected period, the pregnancy test will give accurate results over 99% of the time.

The FMH-139 is a midstream pregnancy test. Each package contains multiple pregnancy tests which offer results within 3-5 minutes. The results are over 99% accurate if tested on cycle day 1, with a sensitivity of 25 mIU/ML that accurately detects the associated hCG hormone. "The Pregnancy Test Midstream FMH-139 gives you all the reassurance you need. From the day of your expected period, the pregnancy test will give you incredibly accurate results that you can rely on," says the company. "Plus, the pregnancy test midstream does not keep you waiting long. It shows rapid results only minutes after testing. If the test shows a single control line, the test is negative and you are not pregnant. If the test shows two lines, a control line and a test line, the test is positive and you are pregnant. Congratulations! The pregnancy test has optimal sensitivity to detect the pregnancy hormone hCG in your urine. With a sensitivity of 25mIU/ML, you can rely on the accuracy of the iProven FMH-139 pregnancy test.?

The process is simple and quick. Users are advised to take the test with their morning urine. ?Do not immediately place the test in your stream. Wait 2 seconds, then keep the test in your urine stream for 10 seconds,? says iProven. One can also dip the testing device in a container containing their morning urine, immersing the test in the container for 5 minutes.

Few things are more exciting than trying to welcome new life into one?s family and, with the FMH-139, the process of finding out if it is time to prepare for the arrival of a new family member is made much easier. ?Whether you have just started your TTC journey, or you?re on the road for a little bit longer, a reliable pregnancy test is a must,? says iProven. There is also a FMH-139 10pack for those who may want to test multiple times to confirm. The company continues, ?That?s why we developed this test with an accuracy of 99%. You can?t believe you finally have that Big Fat Positive? Just test again. Enough tests in the box to confirm the result!?

A number of clients have left positive reviews of the product. In a five star review, one client named Valarie is quoted saying, ?There was no doubt that it was negative, no ambiguity at all about if there was a line or not (and I have wicked line eye). Test was easy to use, packaged well, and not hard to read. Even after the tests dried, there wasn't a hint of a line like I get with some other tests.?

Another review of the product offers similarly high praise, saying, ?Sometimes, taking a pregnancy test can be nerve racking, I love that the results window was easy to understand, the box included great pictures for reference. The directions were easy to understand and the box comes with five tests!?
