As the company states on their website, "If you are looking for For Sale By Owner (FSBO) options, then getting your house listed on the MLS is a must. In order to get your home on the MLS you need to go through a licensed broker. That is where we come in. As flat fee real estate experts, we can get your home listed on the MLS quickly and easily and for a very low price. We want to earn your business and help you get your house sold quickly. Several of our offers include expert marketing strategies that can help you sell the home quicker."

To homeowners making their first house sale, the company explains that the MLS, or Multiple Listing Service, is a suite of real estate listings that brokers compile in order to access information about each other's available properties much quicker. In effect, this means that real estate brokers in a specific region (or even an entire state or country) can join forces to learn what properties outside their reach are for sale, thereby giving each individual property a far wider reach than a single real estate developer working alone would be able to achieve using their own, relatively limited network of industry contacts.

Due to this extended visibility, homes that appear on the MLS have a much higher chance of being discovered by a serious buyer. Homeowners should be aware that there is no central authority that tracks every MLS in the US, so the practical value they stand to gain from an MLS is somewhat dependant on the pedigree of the brokers who form each node of its network. In light of this, they are advised to seek out the services of longstanding and experienced brokers like Flat Free Pros in order to gain access to the more comprehensive MLS networks in their region. For instance, Keweenaw County homeowners may seek access to such an MLS by visiting Flat Free Pros here: <https://www.google.com/maps?cid=18110537858515497783>.

The company continues that, "Each of the real estate experts on our team has been in the industry for 10 years or more on average, so they all have a wealth of experience that can be placed at your disposal. We're familiar with the fastest ways to get your home on the MLS, yes, but we also know which other services you will need to give your FSBO property a more competitive advantage over similar homes in your area. Naturally, we also provide these services at your express request."

To begin with, homeowners who employ Flat Free Pros' unique services gain a vast array of benefits, including a quicky and easy online sign up process, a generous listing period of six months on the MLS, the ability to view the company's other listings, and so on. They may also post properties that need either buyers or renters, receive the company's assistance hosting up to three open houses, and even make use of a free yard sign supplied by the company. If the homeowner prefers that Flat Fee Pros takes an even greater degree of involvement in the selling process, their more expansive service packages include phone and email support, assistance with contracts (in addition to all addendum and disclosures), rush service, and so on. The company notes that one of their most popular high-tier offerings is a drone flyover video, professionally shot and edited to make the property look as appealing as possible to prospective buyers.
