July 31, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

PITTSBURGH, Pa. ? Pittsburgh Appliance Repairs announced its opening today. The company, founded by John Dorling, a military veteran with over 10 years of experience in appliance repair, offers the widest range of appliance repairs in the Pittsburgh area. Pittsburgh Appliance Repairs also announced that it will do free haul-away and recycling of old appliances.

?I love Pittsburgh,? said Dorling. ?I want our company to do our part to keep the area beautiful. That?s why we will pick up any old appliance you have. It?s unsightly ? and unsafe for children ? so call us and we?ll come and get it.?

Pittsburgh Appliance Repairs provides same-day repairs and certified warranty repairs. Appliances serviced include refrigerators, freezers, washers and driers, stoves and dishwashers. Pittsburgh Appliance Repairs works with commercial and residential customers. All service jobs begin with a free service call and written estimate. Military and senior discounts are available as well.

Pittsburgh Appliance Repairs extends a 100% satisfaction warranty on all its work. ?Our business is built upon customer satisfaction,? Dorling added. ?First, we meet your expectations for being reliable, prompt and courteous, just as any business should. But then we go the extra mile to ensure your complete 100% satisfaction by offering the best warranty in Pittsburgh, by our attention to detail and our focus on delivering the highest level of quality workmanship on every project.?

Customers agree, with one of the company?s first clients commenting, ?The technician from Pittsburgh Appliance Service was able to fix our Maytag Refrigerator after another company told us we should scrap it. They saved us from having to buy a new one and I highly recommend them to anyone.?
