Best In Town Towing York PA is a company has been providing a wide variety of towing and roadside services for over 20 years in the York area. In this time, they have become experts at towing all different kinds of cars and trucks. That's why they know it's never a good idea to tow an all-wheel-drive vehicle (AWD) with a standard lift tow truck. They always make sure their professional tow truck drivers use a flatbed hauler when they have to move any AWD vehicle.

Company spokesperson Gary Helms elaborated more on this by saying, "All-wheel drive vehicles differ from normal vehicles in that both axles on them are attached to the car's drive train. That means if you raise the front or back end on them for towing purposes with a conventional tow truck, you are still towing them by using two wheels that are attached to the drive train. This can result in significant damage to that car or truck's drive train or transmission. That's why towing AWD vehicles on a flatbed hauler whereas no wheels have to be moving is always best. Some towing companies say that it's ok to haul AWD vehicles with a conventional tow truck if the vehicle is placed in neutral, but this is something our company never will do or ever recommends being done."

Helms went on to add that their towing company also has several different options when it comes to flatbed vehicle hauling. They even have large flatbed trailers that can even handle towing the largest size cars and trucks. Flatbed hauling also works great for vehicles with such things as broken suspension systems or other wheel related problems.

For those situations where normal tow trucks can be used, Best In Town Towing York PA has many options here too. They have several different sized conventional tow trucks to choose from. This even includes trucks that can handle towing the cabs of 18-wheeler trucks.

Helms also stated is lucky to have some of the most experienced tow truck drivers that can be found in the York, PA area working for them. He says all of their drivers undergo constant training on the latest and best vehicle towing practices and possess all of the certifications that are necessary to tow vehicles in their region of Pennsylvania. Their professional tow drivers also realize how frustrating it can be for a customer to wait a long time to get towing help. That's why they make every effort to get to those that call them for vehicle towing assistance just as quickly as possible.

Although the towing drivers at Best In Town Towing York PA act like professionals all the while they are working with a customer, that does not mean they are not down to earth and sympathetic at the same time. The company prides itself on having drivers that are friendly and courteous to a customer no matter what type of towing situation they find themselves in.

One of the other important jobs that those at Best In Town Towing York PA are tasked with is roadside assistance. Many people do not realize the many other car services that most towing companies can perform. These include such things as jump-starting a car. Towing companies carry portable jump start and charging equipment that can easily get to the batteries of cars parked even in places where driving up next to them and jumpstarting them would be almost impossible. For those occasions when a dead battery is the reason a vehicle won't start, their tow truck's carry spare batteries that will fit most makes and models of vehicles.

Towing companies such as Best In Town Towing York PA can also do such things as winch stuck vehicles out of ditches, repair flat tires on-site, remove junk cars, and do long-distance towing.

The company offers a wide service area that includes the entire York, Pennsylvania area and extends as far west as Gettysburg. More information on this experienced towing company can be found on their website or the google business listing that was linked to above.
