On Time Website Traffic, an SEO company based in Atco, NJ, is offering a new kind of SEO service. With the various changes that have been implemented by Google updates, the old ways are no longer effective, meaning that many companies are struggling to get their pages noticed. On Time Website Traffic believes they can do better through link list creation.

"SEO has changed radically over the past two years," says Marcus Brown and support team from On Time Website Traffic. "Google and other search engines have gone semantic and that has made most of the old SEO processes almost redundant. Our link list creation services are designed to work, which can be seen on our Review Now page, where past customers have told us how happy they are with our work."

The company believes that the way to get targeted traffic is by manually submitting websites to thousands of high-quality web directories. Each of these directories has been shown to be search engine friendly. Furthermore, they make sure that the category under which they get listed is completely relevant. In so doing, targeted users will actually find the information that they are looking for.

The service, which costs $397, submits websites gradually. This means that the search engine bots actually see a natural growth for the back links of the website that are being submitted. This guarantees results for both page rank and page authority.

"Within the world of SEO, the big question is always how to get a site noticed in a way that conforms to the different rules," adds Marcus Brown and support team. "Well, here's how. We make sure that we include everything that the search engine bots are looking for, thereby making it easier and easier for a website to be found."

The company is also keen to highlight just how important these services are. Some 90% of websites currently do not get found. At the same time, the top three pages listed on Google's search results see an average increase of 40% to 50% in their sales revenue. This highlights just how important it is to have a site found.
