October 17, 2019

Colorado Springs, Colorado - October 17, 2019 -

Local House Flipping Company HBR Colorado has recently announced that "we buy houses in any condition in Colorado Springs, CO". The company CEO and founder Brian Rudderow has recently stated "our company will buy any house no matter what condition it's in. We don't care if there's mold damage, fire damage, foundation issues, hail damage, or even if there are tenants or squatters still inside."

Rudderow's company has already had to deal with squatters on multiple occasions, and their company is very familiar with the eviction process. The company has been reviewed by several of their past clients who say that Rudderow runs an ethical and honest operation. They say that he is extremely fair and is a hard-working individual who will stop at nothing to get the task at hand completed. One of their past clients from Arvada recently stated: "I would give them an A+" after Rudderow helped them fix up their property and get it sold in just a 30-day time frame while the couple was still living inside. Rudderow calls this process "flipsaling" because it is sort of a combination of wholesaling and flipping.

Sellers looking to sell their house fast in Colorado should contact Rudderow's company by visiting their website and filling out the form on the homepage to get an instant free quote to see exactly how much cash they are willing to pay. It doesn't matter if a seller's home needs major repair work and a realtor refuses to list it because investment companies like HBR Colorado will buy your house in its current condition. Having someone to turn to who understands real estate and can close extremely fast is very valuable to homeowners who are in a position where they would simply like to get rid of the home without any further hassle.

HBR Colorado spokesperson Brian Rudderow has also recently stated: "Our company is built to serve the customers, not ourselves and we will take on any challenge no matter how difficult. Our company will buy houses in poor condition even if there are extensive repairs such as foundation issues, mold, fire damage, and other major repairs. We don't shy away from a deal just because it needs a lot of work. In fact, we are actually looking for deals that need a lot of work and are in terrible condition. If you have a house that is in horrible condition and you want to sell it fast then please call or text us now to get a free quote. No obligation, and no sales pressure. Just honest, upfront service that you can rely on."

The companies motto is "we buy colorado springs homes" because that's exactly what they do. The company has spent countless hours tweaking their system and analyzing market data to craft home buying formulas which leave as much cash as possible in the pockets of the homeowners while still earning some decent profits for the company. Selling a house with a realtor can be extremely challenging if the home is in a state of disrepair, and a lot of homeowners simply aren't up to the challenge of managing contractors or investing thousands of dollars into their house just so they can sell it on the open market.
