

A Provider of Jobs in Longview, WA Announces the Renaming of Athletic Center

October 17, 2019

October 17, 2019 -

Longview, Wash. ? Express Employment Professionals, an employment agency that provides jobs in Longview, WA, announces the renaming of the Lower Columbia College Stoller Athletic Center.

The athletic center was known as the Fitness Center and is now renamed the Stoller Athletic Center in 2019 by Bill Stoller, one of the founders and current CEO of Express Employment Professionals. Express is a national franchised employment agency with 2 local franchised offices of which Lisa Straughan is the managing partner.

Bill was a member of the 1920 LCC Basketball team (21-8) that took second at the NWAC Tournament, and the 1971 team (19-10), which finished sixth. After attending LCC, Stoller went on to play at Pacific University in Forest Grove, Oregon where his team, the Boxers, won the Northwest Conference Championship in 1973.

The Gym and Fitness Center was completely remodeled in 2014 through a student-led fitness initiative and operational fee. The renovation features an updated gym; new fitness center; classroom space for dance, yoga, health and continuing education classes; community spaces; coaching offices, locker rooms and a juice bar.

The project supports the current and future instructional needs of the college, brings the entire facility into ADA compliance and doubles the space available for athletic activities, health-related classes and activities and other uses.
