October 23, 2019 -

Fast Home Sales, a renowned real estate investment company, is delighted to announce that they now buy houses of all types, no matter their condition, in Greenville, South Carolina. The company has enjoyed fast growth and expansion over the past few years, and now provides their services in a majority of the US. They provide homeowners an uncomplicated and convenient way to sell their properties. More information on the company's new operations in Greenville can be found here: https://www.fasthomesales.com/south-carolina/we-buy-houses-greenville-sc/.

Rob Morris, a representative of the company, states, "As a real estate investment company, we are continually looking for new opportunities across the country to expand our services. Greenville is undoubtedly a beautiful area that boasts remarkable opportunities for investment, so we are very excited to begin our work here. We expect to demonstrate the value of our services promptly, as we can give Greenville residents a reliable and fast way to secure a cash offer for their houses."

As the company notes, they seek to address one of the most common obstacles that prevents homeowners from selling their properties: low capital for renovations, or the lack of it altogether. The traditional home sales process requires that the owner carry out renovations or repairs to make their properties more appealing for interested buyers. These individuals will most likely be judging the properties based on their current state, rather than their potential. In such cases, homeowners who do not possess the capital to fund these renovations will see a significant decrease in the selling power of their properties. In extreme cases, this can leave a house stranded on the open market for a period measured in multiple months, if not years.

"We understand that spending thousands of dollars on repairs and renovations is not a feasible option for everyone, so we have modified our services accordingly," states Morris. "We are real estate investors above all else, so the condition of your house is of minor importance to us?and we will produce an offer even if it is not in its best state. All of the clients and sellers who contact us can count on us to judge their property regardless of its current condition. Following this, we will produce a fair offer that will benefit both parties without taking advantage of the homeowner, as is very likely to happen with a traditional home sale process where negotiations tend to favor the buyer. Above all else, we want our customers to understand that we buy houses in a hassle-free and convenient manner that benefits them as no other alternative does."

As real estate investors, Fast Home Sales also wields the ability to produce fair offers based on the value of similar properties sold in the area, a strategy that often benefits the seller the most. According to the company, this is possible because they do not seek third parties to fulfill these acquisitions, as the case would be with conventional real estate agents.

Alongside these advantages, Fast Home Sales asserts that their buying process does not make any compromises when it comes to the speed of their closing times (nor the overall convenience that sellers enjoy), as it is designed to be as straightforward as it can be. They state that, after an initial call, they will dispatch a company representative to inspect the property and determine its current condition, estimating the extent of the renovations and repairs that may be needed. Once this has been completed, they state that they can produce an offer as few as 24 hours. Following this stage, the company states that they can finish the process within seven days after producing their offer. However, it is up to the seller to decide whether or not they want to go through with this offer, and the company is willing to give them all the time they need to pay it all due consideration.

Fast Home Sales invites homeowners in Greenville, South Carolina to consult the company at their earliest convenience to check whether their house is within the real estate investor?s purview.
