Rob Morris, a representative of Fast Home Sales, says, "Over the years, we have continuously sought new opportunities to expand our services and reach new locations since we believe that we should not limit our services to the residents and homeowners of a single area. We are very proud to announce that, at the moment, we are serving 48 different states in the US, making us one of the biggest real estate investors in the nation. Homeowners all across the country can rely on us to provide them a convenient way to receive cash for their properties."

The company's core mission is to ease the sales process for homeowners who need a quick and straightforward means to obtain cash for their properties. They note that their services are specially catered to homeowners who face financial deadlines for any of a variety of reasons and cannot wait and go through the more conventional home selling process. This process involves real estate agents, long closing times, and continuous price negotiations between the interested parties and the homeowners.

Fast Home Sales' initiative is much more easy-going and convenient for homeowners, addressing some of the most troubling aspects of the conventional real estate market, such as the immense amount of paperwork that needs to be filled out and the long closing times. Morris states, "We know that not everyone can afford to wait for months while a real estate agent shows their house to potential buyers and then wait some more for them to decide whether or not the property is worth it. We are investors, which means that we buy houses directly, without any intermediary. After an initial evaluation, we can provide you with an all-cash offer, usually within 24 Hours. If our clients decide to move forward, we can close the deal in less than a couple of weeks, which means we often achieve one of the fastest closing times among real estate investment companies in the country."

Fast Home Sales relies on a team of experts to fulfill all of their purchases, which ensures a smooth, and easy-going transaction. They also allow the seller to benefit from the team's expertise and experience as they can handle every step of the sales process. Beginning with an initial evaluation of the property during which the company will determine the state of the house, these evaluations crucially allow Fast Home Sales to purchase a home no matter what condition it is in. Notably, their cash offer is usually based more on the value of similar properties that have been sold in the vicinity lately rather than the state of the house itself.

Once the initial evaluation is finished and the company has presented their offer for the property, they affirm that the sale can be closed at any point that the seller finds convenient, whether it takes seven days, a few weeks, or more for them to get comfortable. This is remarkably important for homeowners to take into account, since the company's offer will stand as long as the seller takes to weigh other options.

The states covered by the company's services include Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, and Indiana, to name a few.
