?We represent the whole market and are not tied to an individual bank or building society. As an independent service provider, we provide our clients with the latest and best rates on the market. The Mortgage Bureau prides itself on being one of the very few independent mortgage advisers whose mission is to protect the best interests of their clients and not of lenders and estate agents,? says Andrew Masterson from The Mortgage Bureau Cambridge. He also asserts that the firm ensures client information from individuals and entities who may have differing vested interests always remains confidential.

Furthermore, Andrew points out that The Mortgage Bureau, being independent of estate agents and property vendors, can help their clients negotiate the most competitive price on their house purchase. ?We only work with our clients and, therefore, there will be no conflict of interest. Very few mortgage advisers are independent of banks and lenders, and The Mortgage Bureau is proud to be one of them,? he says.

The Mortgage Bureau?s team of consultants are also independent financial advisors who are capable of recommending the most competitive life assurance products from a selection that spans the entire marketplace. This ensures that their clients can find a tailor-made mortgage ?package? that suit their specific needs.

The firm places an array of solutions within a homeowner?s reach by offering low-interest mortgages, remortgages to save cost, commercial mortgages to fund ventures, and other associated requirements such as life insurance. They are also one of the most trusted mortgage brokers in the area, based on a number of positive reviews and recommendations they have received from many of their previous clients. In fact, they have numerous 5-star ratings on various review platforms online.

One of their clients, Jonathan Leach says in a Google review, ?I made an appointment with their friendly receptionist and turned up at their smart office in Cambridge. Andrew met me and ran through all the compliance issues before undertaking a full fact-find. He then provided me with really good advice from across the whole market, rather than being restricted like my previous mortgage was. I ended up making a lot in savings and can't thank The Mortgage Bureau enough.?

Meanwhile, Jason Thorarinsson, in another 5-star Google review, says, ?Andrew and his team were really great at getting us a mortgage. The rates were much more competitive than our bank offered and was actually offered to us much faster than the bank?s quoted date. They are highly recommended and we would definitely use them again.?
