RGR Abatements In Calgary Announce New Fall Openings For Asbestos Removal

October 28, 2019

CALGARY, AB - October 28, 2019 -

Calgary, Alberta based RGR Abatements has reached out to the community to announce the availability of their asbestos Removal Services during the Fall season, urging their clients to schedule an appointment for asbestos testing before opening are completely booked up. For several years, the local company has been the community's preferred option in handling the complicated asbestos removal process. RGR Abatements states that they owe this preference to the expertise and professionalism they have shown their customers, especially since they are able to demonstrate that asbestos removal is safe and does not present any health hazards.

Raj Gosal, a representative of RGR Abatements, states, "Since we are now a couple of weeks into the Fall season, we wanted to remind the community that this is the perfect time to schedule an asbestos removal service since they won?t have to wait several months for an opening in our schedule. Scheduling a convenient appointment will likely get more complicated in a matter of months due to snowstorms and other unfavourable weather conditions. These conditions can also make your asbestos building an even bigger health threat than it already is, as the structure could suffer damage, leading to the release of toxins that are hazardous to your health."

As the company notes, scheduling an appointment as soon as possible will ensure that these matters are attended quickly, which is crucial considering the health threat that this material presents to a building?s inhabitants. Furthermore, given how slow the removal process can be, scheduling an appointment well in advance of dangerous weather is of vital importance to ensure that a removal project is completed without complication.

"While we possess extensive experience and know the asbestos removal process better than anyone else, there is only so much we can do to speed it up," states Gosal. He adds that the safety precautions that must be followed to ensure a successful removal without exposing anyone to these toxins make asbestos removal a very complicated and demanding task.

"From inspecting the property to determine the best strategy to proceed with the removal and sealing the area to prevent the spread of contamination, there are multiple safety measures that we must take before we begin. Only once the affected areas have been sealed and other materials protected against exposure shall our team begin the removal process. This could take anywhere from a couple of days up to a week, depending on the complexity of the project."

RGR Abatements is one of the most successful RGR asbestos removal companies in the area. They take great pride in the team of experts on which they rely, who are all certified, licensed, and insured individuals capable of safely handling even the most complicated projects. All of these technicians share the same commitment towards serving the community and are dedicated to ensuring the safety of all persons involved, delivering unmatched services and outstanding customer attention.

Several customer reviews attest to the excellence of their services. RGR Abatements is one of the best-rated companies in the area, enjoying an aggregate review score of 5 Stars on Google's platform. Through this space, a grateful client shares that the company was, "Prompt and professional. Raj was happy to answer all my questions by phone and email. They do testing and remediation; however, don't apply any pressure when testing to use their services if tests are positive. The fact that their testing price is very reasonable is great. More people should test and at least know what you are dealing with in your home."

Another positive comment from a satisfied RGR Abatements client states, "I recently hired RGR Abatements to do some testing for me. Raj was super nice, very professional, and seemed happy to answer all of my many questions. He even discussed options and shared information with me I never would have thought to ask about myself. I would hope that nobody ever has to deal with asbestos, but if you do, this is definitely the company to call."

The company's website includes more information on the services provided by RGR Abatements. They invite all those in need of their services to contact Raj Gosal to follow up on any inquiries. More information on this topic can also be found here: Asbestos Calgary.
