Denver Hot Tub Store Offers Free Home Visits

October 24, 2019

Denver, Colorado - October 24, 2019 -
Wind River Spas, a Englewood, Colorado based hot tub store, is pleased to announce that they now offer free home visits. Wind River Spas specializes in the manufacture and sale of hot tubs that are produced entirely in Colorado. The company has been in operation since 1978.

Rick Hallett, Owner of Wind River Spas, says, ?At Wind River Spas, we always strive to provide the best service for our customers. We try to exceed their expectations. As a part of that initiative, we are now offering to visit our customers? homes to try and help them with their hot tub/spa needs. By visiting your home, we can help you pick the perfect new addition to your house and advise you on where your brand new hot tub or spa can fit in. Once you?ve made a purchase, we will come and help you set it up as well.?

While most hot tubs on the market today are manufactured at sea level in California and Florida, and so are not suitable for Colorado's climate, Wind River Hot Tubs & Spas aims to fashion products that can withstand Colorado's demanding conditions and provide users with long-term satisfaction.

Originally started in Hallett's garage, Wind River Spas has now expanded to a large operation of two showrooms and a manufacturing facility. The company also holds the claim to being the only hot tub manufacturer in Colorado. Over the past 40 years of being a family-owned operation, the company has also managed to develop 37 different models of hot tubs and spas designed to meet any specific needs their customers might have. At the store room, customers are also able to wet test all of Wind River Spas? products before they make a purchase.

Hallett says, ?We have the largest collection of hot tubs and spas under one roof in all of Colorado. You won?t find such choices and options anywhere else?but your biggest advantage is that we can custom design hot tubs and spas for your specific needs. All of our products are also incredibly safe and you can be sure that they will only deliver comfort and satisfaction.? Wind River Spas also asserts that they are committed to providing excellent customer service in the highly competitive Metro Denver Hot Tubs and Spas industry.

The company?s commitment to quality products and services has earned them a strong reputation among their customers. On Google, Wind River Spas maintains a perfect 5-star rating, based on more than 130 customer reviews. Donald Szynskie says in his review that they experienced a, ?First class experience shopping for a new hot tub! I started my four month investigation to replace my 20 year old tub at Rick's place near Santa Fe & Dartmouth. Learning what was out there on the market, I came full circle back and purchased from Wind River Spa. Rick, Nick, and Tyler did not engage in high pressure sales tactics, yet were very informative. 100% positive. Way to go, guys.?

In another review, Bill Meersman says, ?Wind River Spas was highly recommended to us. After a quick visit to their showroom, we were sold. The price was very competitive and all inclusive, including a pre-sale home visit to verify we were buying the right product for our location as well as installation. The Ozone-based filtration system ensures the water is clean and relatively chlorine free. I would highly recommend Wind River Spas as a one-stop shop for anyone looking for a home spa.?

The company also maintains a perfect score on Facebook, based on over 50 reviews. Kaci Burns Nice says, ?Wind River stayed open late for us to get our tub, was super helpful, and we love the tub! We bought it a year ago and still use it almost daily, and we've had no issues at all! We love it, and they are so easy to work with too!?
