August 03, 2015 -

Michael, Taggart, CEO of Adventure Marketing and SEO Expert, has announced he will be speaking at HUSH VIP Events in Orange County on August 14th-15th. Taggart was invited to speak again based on the success of his last presentation at HUSH VIP in Las Vegas. He will be sharing his expertise with attendees on PR, Marketing, and how to build your brand and online presence. His approach will provide HUSH guests with some of his applied techniques in SEO and Marketing strategies that have been used for many of his clients in the past.

Taggart said, ?I am so thrilled that the HUSH VIP Events team invited me back to speak for a second time on SEO and press releases. I feel my content really provides attendees with value and a way to generate more traffic for their business.?

Over the years, Michael Taggart has become a mentor and coach in the public relations arena by building up his background as a marketing expert and utilizing a variety of training methods designed to teach important but little known details about the industry including how to create effective press releases, develop successful SEO strategies, and how to utilize PR to build their authority and online visibility. Having created many successful 7 figure businesses, Michael Taggart feels that he can offer many up and coming enterprises with another means of gaining a foothold in their industry so that they may grasp the recognition they need to propel forward.

Michael has been speaking at events over the past 5 years on his cutting edge techniques, including at GKIC 2014 and 2015, 7 Figure Speaking Empire, Traffic and Conversion and more. All of these events have held one clear direction and purpose in common: to arm businesses with the tools they need to find success in their fields of expertise.

The HUSH VIP Event will focus on website traffic, SEO, Email Marketing, and everything else you need to take your business to the next level. Featuring Speakers like Damien Zamora, JP Maroney, Jody Underhill, and more. For more information or to purchase a ticket, please visit hushvipevents.com.
