November 06, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Des Moines Tree Removal, a tree service based out of Des Moines, Iowa is reaching out to the wider community to explain the importance of professional tree care and maintenance. The company is known for providing a variety of tree services that include tree removal, tree trimming and plant health care.

Trevor, a representative for Des Moines Tree Removal, says, "Trees are a critical part of our ecosystem and the care and maintenance of trees is absolutely vital to sustain our ecosystem's wellbeing. The only way to ensure that you are doing tree care and maintenance the right way is to hire professionals who know what they are doing. When you hire a tree care professional, you can be sure that you are getting the appropriate help that the trees on your property need. We prune and remove deadwood as required, with the ultimate goal of maintaining the health of the tree itself as well as the soil it grows on. However, if we think the best thing for your particular ecosystem is to remove a certain tree, we will do that."

Des Moines Tree Removal offers services that tend to the health and hygiene of trees, but they also offer emergency services for trees that need to be trimmed or removed immediately. According to the company, storm damage can cause serious damage to trees and leave them in a position where they are a danger to any property or people in the surrounding area. Trevor says, "In such situations, the best course of action you can take is to get in touch with the closest tree service professional. This is due to the fact that they have the training and expertise to make sure that the tree removal is done with the utmost care to prevent any further damage to any property or people."

"Something that really needs to be taken into account when you're considering tree care is your own safety," adds Trevor. "It really needs to be emphasized: you need specialized knowledge not just to deal with damaged and broken trees but also to do basic tree care and maintenance. We've heard a lot of cases where people who tried their hand at DIY tree care being seriously hurt. Branches can fall on you or your property, but there are also a number of accidents that can happen as a result of the many sharp tools that are needed to do a proper job of tree care. So, if you don't have the right skills or experience to handle the tools, you are much better off hiring professionals."

"Hiring a tree removal expert also ensures that you save time," notes Trevor. "You might be able to do the job yourself, but it's going to require far too much effort and, more importantly, time on your part. You might end up doing more harm than good too, but if you've hired professional arborists like us, the job will be done much quicker and, as already mentioned, in a much safer manner."
