Parente & Norem, a personal injury legal firm has introduced new bicycle accident legal services in Chicago. The firm has been providing professional legal services in Chicago for years and is expanding these services in Chicago and the surrounding areas.

According to the website. ?Bicycles have long been used for fun or leisure and as a mode of transportation too. In today?s changing transportation landscape, and with the technological advancements of ride sharing, bicycles as a means of transportation has gained even more popularity. With even more cyclists on the road, the number of accidents and incidents reported has also increased. If you were involved in an accident, or sustained injuries while riding a bike from certain road hazards, you might have a valid claim. Road hazards such as potholes or sewer grates and rails that run in the same direction or on a curve with traffic can make the public entity, or the contractor that did the work, liable.

Sewer grates running with the flow of traffic can have a bicycle tire fall in, or get stuck, ejecting the rider, or causing the rider to lose control. Many public entities have since made adjustments to these sewer grates by incorporating cross braces, or by changing the direction of the grates perpendicular to traffic. These types of accidents seem to be more common in younger rider.?

The firm goes a step further in providing legal education for cyclists in case of an accident. This is to make sure that cyclists know their rights and what they are supposed to do in case they are involved in an accident. The site states that, ?Bicycle accidents often involve complex legal issues. Finding a bicycle accident attorney that has experience with these types of claims can make a significant difference. At the Law Offices of Parente & Norem, P.C. we have a bicycle accident attorney that can provide a free consultation and case evaluation to help determine if you have a valid claim.?
