iDap Tech, a Vero Beach, Florida based company, has announced that it will soon offer its first electronics product, which is a Bluetooth speaker, on the Amazon marketplace. The company's first product is the iDap Tech T-3 Music Pulse Bluetooth Speaker that uses V3.0 technology.

iDap Tech's Luis A Morales recently stated, "We're excited about the launch of our first product. Our Bluetooth speaker is sure to be the life of any party. We want our customers to know that there will be many more high quality products from us in the future."

iDap's Bluetooth speaker allows users to enjoy their music up to 33 feet away from the device. It is compatible with most Apple devices, as well as Android, Blackberry, and a number of laptop and tablet brands. The speakers feature enhanced bass resonators in a portable device, which is easy to take along anywhere. The built-in microphone enables users to talk on the phone, and the built in fine tunable FM radio, Micro SD card slot and TF, allow for playing music live or from an MP3 device.

The Bluetooth speaker also has a built-in rechargeable 600 mAh battery that is capable of providing power for up to five hours of play time before needing a recharge. Complete recharge can be achieved in just around three hours, and the 3.5 mm audio cable allows users to listen to non-Bluetooth devices through wired speaker technology.

Most users find the multi LED light pulse to be one of the most exciting features. "I love the light show that it puts on," says one customer. "The lights dance to the rhythm of my music, and it's a great party speaker."

The LED lighting can be turned on or off at the touch of a finger. More about the speaker, including the entire list of features, can be viewed at <http://www.amazon.com/Bluetooth-Speakers-iDap-Wireless-Connects/dp/B010VWN35A>.
