

Real Estate Appraiser Announces Their Website Now Uses A Better Security Protocol

November 12, 2019

ROSEVILLE, MN - November 12, 2019 -
Roseville, Minnesota based Minnesota Real Estate Appraisal Services has proudly announced that they have updated their website's security protocol to use HTTPS encryption, guaranteeing the protection of visitors? important information, and ensuring safe navigation through their website. The local company has always held their clients? safety and well-being above all else. They are continuously looking for ways to guard their clients? peace of mind by using the latest technology in online security.

Clark Goset, a representative of Minnesota Real Estate Appraisal Services, states, "While we know appraisal more than internet safety protocols, we value our clients? safety and security, and want to ensure that their data protected at all times. We worked closely with experts to make this transition to a safer protocol happen, and we can now guarantee that all of the requests and responses that our clients generate during their visits to our website are fully encrypted. All of this is with the purpose of serving them more securely, maintaining the high standard of our services."

As the company states, their previous website used the HTTP protocol. While it is one of the most commonly used protocols on the internet, it does not protect the data that it carries, which means they can be read by anyone who is monitoring the session. Essentially, a malicious actor can simply read the text in the data request or response and know exactly what information someone is asking for, sending, or receiving. Now, with the inclusion of HTTPS, which uses TLS (SSL) to encrypt normal HTTP requests and responses, the company can guarantee that visitors to their website enjoy a much higher degree of security.

"Even though we had never had an incident of compromised data in the past, we felt like this was a necessary change," states Goset. "It is better to be safe than sorry after all and, when it comes to sensitive data, it is even more important to be proactive rather than reactive. This also allows us to focus on our services as we no longer have to worry about our website's safety, though we will keep an eye on what other upgrades could be done to our platform in the future."

Minnesota Real Estate Appraisal is one of the most experienced companies in the area. Their unrivaled expertise and knowledge has led them to win multiple awards. They boast all of the characteristics that make up an outstanding real estate appraiser, with a history in which they have displayed their impartiality, objectivity, and deep knowledge and understanding of the fundamentals of real estate appraisal. Furthermore, they offer a variety of legal appraisal services in addition to real estate appraisals. They can provide advice and guidance in several legal areas, including Marital Dissolution Divorce, Partnership, Stigmatized Property, Condemnation and Eminent Domain Cases, and more.

Notably, the company enjoys a review score of 4.6/5 stars on the Google platform. In this space, Mike S. says, "Thanks for your attention to detail. We had three lots to distribute to heirs, all similar but different. Your appraisals helped make the process of keeping things equal a lot easier."

Another review, written by Peter Palmer, shares, "Clarke Goset did a superb job on a project of ours, taking the time to evaluate some tricky easement issues that affected the use of part of a parcel we were developing. His knowledge and expertise helped establish a fair value all parties could agree to."

Goset spoke about the remarkable support that the company receives from the community, saying, "We are very thankful to receive such positive feedback. We try to keep our clients? best interests in mind whenever we make a decision, so seeing them support us and dedicate these kind words to us is encouraging."
