November 13, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Joels Pro Tree Service of Springfield has been providing quality tree services in that part of Ohio for many years now. During that time, they have established themselves as a reliable and knowledgeable tree care provider. Many customers acknowledge that they are experts when it comes to doing such services as tree trimming. That's why their advice should be highly considered when they suggest that tree trimming is most beneficial when undertaken by professionals in the field.

The spokesperson for the company had this to say on the subject, "Tree trimming is an essential part of tree care on any landscape. It's not something that should be done by just anyone because it takes special training to do it the right way. Over the years we have seen too many examples of improper tree trimming that negatively impacted tree health and aesthetics. That's why our crews are led by certified arborists. Their experience gives them the knowledge to trim trees in a way that significantly benefits trees health-wise. Well-trained tree professionals also know the best time of year to trim each type of tree in their area and special trimming techniques and procedures that will help revive trees in a landscape whose health is suffering."

The spokesperson also pointed out that another big reason that tree trimming should only be done by professionals is for safety reasons. Tree trimming is done at heights using powerful tools with sharp cutting edges. This can lead to serious injuries or even death for those that are not experienced at using these tools while working high up in the air. At Joels Pro Tree Service of Springfield, they follow set protocols that help them trim trees in the safest possible manner. They also provide their crews with lift trucks, sturdy ladders, and the best equipment money can buy so they can do their trimming work under the safest possible conditions.

The company spokesperson also stated that many people are under the impression that tree trimming is an optional type of tree care. That's hardly the case. There are several reasons why it should be done on at least a yearly basis. The most important of which is for tree health. Tree trimming does such beneficial things as eliminating dead and diseased branches which may eventually become a hazard. Trimmed trees are also healthier because important sunlight and moisture can better reach the interior parts of a tree. Not to mention that tree trimming leaves any tree much better looking than it was before the trimming took place. Tree trimming even has health benefits for grasses and other plants below the tree because sunlight and rain will reach them more easily too. So it's an important part of overall landscape health too.

If one visits the company's website at <https://joels-pro-tree-service-of-springfield.business.site/>, they will see that the company offers many more tree services than just tree trimming. Their crews are also experts when it comes to doing safe tree removal. They know how to fell trees in a way where they do no harm to nearby vehicles, homes, and other personal property. Most importantly, they will also keep the area free of people to prevent injuries when they are taking down any tree. The crews at Joels Pro Tree Service can even grind and remove the leftover stumps so that the ground where the tree once stood will become fully usable again. They also do a thorough cleanup before leaving any work site.

The company also offers a wide variety of emergency tree services. They can be contacted 24-hours a day if someone has a tree or branch come down during a storm that lands on a home, car or is blocking access to a driveway. Joels Pro Tree Service also provides fast, free estimates for their many different tree services. They will even come to a customer's home and inspect their trees. Once this has taken place, they will then advise them as to what essential tree work they should get done.
