Many people are now checking their site to find unwanted gift cards on offer, and negotiating with them to pick up the full face value at a discount. EJ Gift Cards has established a reputation for providing the best gift cards at a discount in the secondary gift card marketplace. This allows their customers to shop for their favorite brands with ease, using their online gift card balance.

Speaking on behalf of EJ Gift Cards, Harry Jeanty says, "Every year, billions of dollars' worth of gift cards are purchased and never used, often forgotten. Our mission is to connect people who have received unwanted gift cards connect to those that want them and get the cash in return. We pay through PayPal, which helps those transacting with the site feel comfortable that they are in safe hands."

The site is able to offer smart buyers gift cards from over 1,500 popular gift card, eGift and eCard options. Many are now keen to cash in on unused cards so they can pick up a bargain in the upcoming Black Friday and Cyber Monday sales. Popular gift cards are being offered for sale at savings of up to 30% off the face value of the card.

Jeanty continued, "All the cards we sell are from verified sellers. We back them with a 100 Days Money Back Guarantee that covers inactive or non-activated gift cards, cards sold with an inaccurate balance, improper gift card delivery, where the wrong brand is sent and even physical gift cards which have not been received within 30 days of purchase. We know that our integrity is everything. All any buyer needs to do is to contact us within 100 days of their purchase and we will do everything we can to make it right."

The company's recent 5-star reviews on TrustPilot noted that they provide great support by replacing faulty cards and they also have excellent customer service. A majority of customers expect to use them again. One recent TrustPilot reviewer summed it up by saying, "I had no idea I could exchange the gift cards I got for money! This was a great discovery! Thanks, EJ Gift Cards for being true to your word and paying me."

The site also includes a very useful feature for those who have gift cards sitting around and gathering dust. Through their site, visitors can check how much value is on their card using their Check Your Gift Card Balance feature. From there, they can easily decide whether or not they want to sell them straight away. Smart shoppers now use EJ Gift Cards to manage their online balances, using their automatic gift card balance checking service to find out how much is on their gift card before they check out, taking the opportunity to top up or buy additional purchasing power at a discount.

More and more people are turning to cashing in their gift cards for cash. The company has an affiliate program that can provide a great rate of return for those who understand the marketplace. It pays up to 6% commission on gift cards sold and, for each gift card referred, they can earn 4% of the gift card value plus 25 cents per card. Full details for their affiliate program can be found on their website. Learn more at the following link: How It Works.

Jeanty concluded, "We believe that the eCard gift market is going to overtake actual cards. As more people get used to dealing online with everything, it doesn't make sense to have a wallet or storage box for small cards. We can supply eCards for virtually every retailer at a good discount and get them to you quickly. Now is the best time to stock up on the cards you know you will want ahead of Black Friday and Cyber Monday 2019 sales."

Those looking to buy gift cards for the upcoming holidays can find substantial discounts for the ones they want ahead of the Black Friday and Cyber Monday sales through the EJ Gift Cards website.
