March 20, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

InStyle Dental, based in San Gabriel, California, recently celebrated the 3rd anniversary of the arrival of their periodontist, Dr. Joseph Morcos. Dr. Morcos is one of the successful periodontists in the area, and he has won the community's support following his arrival. Carolina Rodriguez, Administrator of InStyle Dental, affirms that all of the office's staff are celebrating Dr. Morcos' anniversary. She says, "Things have certainly changed for the better since Dr. Morcos' arrival here. He brings a lot of knowledge and expertise to our practice, elevating our services to a new level of quality. We admire him for his commitment towards serving the community, as helping those in need has always been his top priority. For all of these reasons and more, we want to congratulate Dr. Morcos for the excellent work he has done with us. We hope that we will continue to serve the community together for many years to come."

Dr. Morcos has been a staple of the InStyle Dental experience since his arrival, as his experience, passion, and friendly demeanor coincide well with the other doctors at the practice. He maintains that the fundamental goal of his practice is to build a meaningful relationship with his patients. This is because he believes a high degree of trust between a patient and their dentist is vital in order to achieve the best results for any treatment, and he has repeatedly demonstrated his ability to connect with his own patients on a personal level over the course of his tenure at InStyle Dental. Notably, this ability is mirrored in his peers at the dental office.

Naturally, the commitment that Dr. Morcos offers his patients at the center has played a significant role in InStyle Dental's overall growth, as the office is currently known for being one of the best dental practices in San Gabriel. Many of the city's residents state that they prefer InStyle Dental whenever they need dental procedures of any kind, as the office's patient care and the excellence of their services are unmatched. This is illustrated particularly well in the office's online feedback, since they still boast an outstanding review rating of 4.9/5 stars despite nearing their 140th review on the Google platform. It is through this space that Priscilla Cobb shares her experience with InStyle Dental, as she notes that she "was referred to InStyle by a friend." She continues, "I was looking for the perfect dentist to have my son get braces. He was never good with doing routine care but the doctors here made my son feel comfortable, and also myself, They always call to set up reminders, and when I need to change schedules, they are always there to help. The facility is very clean, they're very friendly, and they did as much as they could to help with my payment. I would highly recommend them for children and anyone else interested in braces."

Another recent review, written by Chris Sekas, says, "We had another fabulous visit at InStyle Dental. Our appointment was at 3 pm and my twins were in the chair by 3:01 pm. This is huge when you have two young kiddos and a busy schedule. I love that every time I come in, they take you in right on time. The staff are all extremely friendly and welcoming. They are very patient with my kiddos, especially my son, who is very sensory sensitive. They show the kids and explain everything they are going to do before they do it. Our experience at this office is far superior to any other office we have been to with my kids."
