November 15, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Fast Home Sales, a business based in Holbrook, Massachusetts, has announced that they are buying houses in any condition in Stamford, Connecticut. They want to point out that it is indeed a difficult thing to sell a home fast in today's real estate market. Fortunately, there are ways to get over that difficulty and one way is to sell the home to a cash buyer.

Rob Morris, a spokesperson for Fast Home Sales, "If you need to sell fast due to divorce, job loss, pressures of relocation, or any other of life's tribulations, this process can be especially formidable. Luckily, there are ways for you as a local Connecticut house seller to win! Selling to a cash house buyer can get you the cash that you need fast, while also taking your property off your hands so that you can move on with your life. We want to help, which is why we buy houses in Connecticut in any condition or situation."

Cash buyers like Fast Home Sales are investors who are willing to help homeowners get out of their difficult situation while also looking for houses or properties they can invest in and later sell for a profit.

However, house sellers need to keep a number of things in mind. They should make sure that the buyer will really be using cash for the purchase instead of getting financing from a bank, for instance. A cash purchase means the sale of the house can be completed in as little as seven days, as opposed to 30 days or up to nine months, which is the usual length of time for selling a house the traditional way.

Second, a house seller should be honest when providing a description of the actual condition of the house. Experienced cash buyers know what to look for and can quickly see through a lie, so there is no benefit in tarnishing the relationship and possibly causing the sale not to push through just to be able to save a few dollars.

And third, a house seller should be flexible and be open to recommendations from the cash buyer. A legit cash house buyer like Fast Home Sales will always strive to come up with a win-win situation. For instance, after talking to several house sellers in Stamford, they may realize that there are other options that would make a lot more sense than their buying the house. They will then inform the house seller about this alternative solution. Fast Home Sales is a real estate solutions and investment company that focuses on helping homeowners sell their houses fast in Stamford, including throughout Fairfield County. Because of their experience and because they have enough funds to be able to buy houses with cash, they are able to find a way to buy a home in as-is condition, while still offering a fair price. The benefits for the sellers are obvious. They don't have to clean and make any repairs to the house in order to sell it. That means savings in both time and money.

All that house sellers need to do is follow three simple steps if they want to sell their house to Fast Home Sales. The first step is to go over the details of their home and write a description about it. They will then contact Fast Home sales to submit their information and then schedule a meeting with a representative.

The second step is for a representative from Fast Home Sales to visit the home for sale. He or she will take a look at the property and then make a cash offer. House sellers may ask any questions at this point. If the homeowner agrees with the offer, the third step is for the seller to pick a closing date. Fast Home Sales will then close based on the seller's preferred closing date.
