November 18, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Modiin, Israel -- Flaskdata.io patient compliance automation platform expands operations to China. Flaskdata and JmedTec sign partnership agreement.

Danny Lieberman, founder and CEO of Flaskdata.io and Dr. Chao Xu, CEO of JmedTec jointly announced today a partnership agreement whereby JmedTec will distribute a Chinese language and locally-hosted version of the FlaskData EDC, ePRO, eSource and monitoring automation platform bundled with JMedTec CRO services. In Israel, Flaskdata will market the bundled solution to Israeli medtech and pharmaceutical sponsors.

"Chao Xu and the JMedTec team are an outstanding group of people with deep regulatory and clinical expertise that assure execution of successful medtech and pharma clinical research projects. We immediately discovered a common language, and look forward to growing our long-term relationship and developing great solutions for the Chinese clinical research market," said Danny Lieberman.

"The timing is a perfect opportunity for us to create a highly competitive and cost-effective world-class e-Clinical solution for Chinese medtech sponsors and Israeli medtech companies looking to gain China market access,? said Dr. Chao Xu, CEO of JMedTec.
