December 02, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Action 1 Restoration of Denver is now available to customers in and around Denver, Colorado, for fire damage, water damage mitigation, and mold remediation services. They understand that fire and water damage is an emergency and treat it as such, making themselves available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, with response times that are usually less than an hour. Since Action 1 Restoration now has new partners in the Denver area, they are able to provide even faster and better service to residents and businesses in the Denver metropolitan area that have experienced fire or flooding. Action 1 Restoration of Denver also knows that dealing with flooding and fire damage is a pain on more levels than just the physical damage to the building and the things in it. The Denver team and associates are trained to work with homeowners and businesses through all facets of damage remediation, from planning the remediation process to working with insurance companies to provide fast resolution solutions and ensuring the insurance company covers as much of the repairs as possible.

Action 1 Restoration of Colorado fills an important role in the contractor space in Denver. They are the emergency experts in water damage, and are experienced with water removal and water extraction. They also provide drying services, including structural drying. They can help with the repair process for fire and water damaged buildings, and provide free estimates to anyone who contacts them in need of repairs. The company is also adequately licensed, certified and insured to do business in the state of Colorado. When a home has been flooded, for example, professionals from Action 1 Restoration will assist with filing an insurance claim, and then, once the claim has been filed, they will begin removing water from the building. The process of removing water from a flooded home is rather complicated and best left to professionals like those from Action 1 Restoration, because it needs to be done in a particular way to avoid further damage to a building. There is also industrial grade equipment that Action 1 Restoration and other restoration companies use when removing water from a home, and they have the training and the knowledge to do so.

Action 1 water damage services in Colorado cover all property types. They are available 24/7 whether the flooding or fire happened on a commercial or residential lot, and they have a wide range of equipment they can use to quickly and effectively remediate damage. By using the proper equipment to remove water and dry out a home, Action 1 Restoration ensures that all water has been removed, and there aren't hidden wet spots that could grow mold or attract ants and cause even more significant damage to the home. By drying it out right the first time, homeowners can rest assured that they won't have to deal with potentially larger hassles further down the road. Action 1 Restoration shows their commitment to the best damage mitigation by treating all water damage incidents as emergencies, because they are. Time is of the essence when dealing with flooding, and Action 1 and their partners prioritize response time and making sure that all damage is restored effectively and quickly to prevent the spread of further issues in the structure.

Regardless of the reason for the water damage, be it burst or damaged pipes, leaking or blocked toilets, water overflowing from a malfunctioning appliance, or any kind of storm related flooding, Action 1 Restoration is available to help. They can help whether the water damage is major or minor, they can even assist with cleanup when water damage has gotten into the structure of a building. Anyone who is dealing with damage to their home or business due to water, fire, or mold in the Denver area can contact Action 1 Restoration and know that their damage will be quickly taken care of by quality professionals who will do an equally quality job.
