Online security provider Lilexo is pleased to inform security and budget conscious homeowners that their Mini Wifi Camera is now available for purchase on Amazon. Boasting all the capabilities of their older cousins, the bulky CCTV cameras, these compact and wireless home security cameras now feature many additional upgrades courtesy of modern engineering solutions. Learn more about these cameras and how they stand apart from the competition at the following link: https://www.thebalancesmb.com/best-security-cameras-for-small-businesses-4160583.

According to Lilexo, ?Our cameras represent a new generation of home security cameras that offer diverse uses. The wired bulky security cameras are replaced with wireless small and portable ones that offer the same features as the conventional ones, at affordable prices, to any household. These innovative little devices can be discreet if necessary, utilized as a security system and so on with remote viewing/live feed enabled through WiFi. Each camera is iOS/Android compatible, can be used as a home security camera, nanny cam, baby monitor, pet cam, dash cam, and more.

With live stream support, built-in motion sensor technology, 150° wide-angle view, and an accompanying smartphone app that allows a user to check their camera?s live stream from virtually any location that has internet access, affordable and convenient security is closer within reach than ever before. This is particularly important given the fact that many people do not have the means to hire live-in security to guard their homes or other important places. As such, the camera fulfills an important role in a home?s security: it stands as a nearly invisible witness to would-be intruders or other unwanted events.

Homeowners should note that the camera only supports 2.4GHz Wi-Fi signals. However, the team at Lilexo have included a feature that allows their Mini WiFi Camera to automatically record to a MicroSD card if an appropriate WiFi signal cannot be utilized. Similarly, the company?s customers have less to fear from a WiFi network outage than they may expect since the camera will automatically begin recording to its MicroSD card in such situations.

On the same note, those who live in areas that suffer frequent power dropouts can rest assured that their camera will continue to function for hours without a dedicated power source. While the camera can provide an uninterrupted monitoring stream around the clock with a dedicated power source, It?s high-quality 1300 mAh lithium ion battery can keep the device switched on and recording for up to five hours. In most cases, this should be enough to ensure that the camera continues to do its job unimpeded.

Furthermore, Lilexo wanted to ensure that their customers enjoy the benefit of a camera that delivers nothing but the best in picture quality. Despite the device?s deceptively small size, modern advancements allow it to capture crisp, clear images and recordings that bring every detail to life. Homeowners will be able to enjoy vivid live streams or playback of 1080p HD picture and video, thanks to the professional optical glass lens that it is equipped with. Most notably, perhaps, those who test out their Mini Wifi Camera?s limits will discover that it features a smart night vision mode that engages its built-in IR (Infrared) lights in low light conditions. Given that IR lights are invisible to the naked eye, the camera is able to capture images and video up to 26 feet away without revealing its own position. As such, no illicit night time activity will be beyond the camera?s sight simply because there is not enough light.

According to Lilexo, ?We want you to have peace of mind. That?s why the Lilexo Mini WiFi camera comes with a 1-year guarantee. Home security should never be taken lightly and, with Lilexo, you can safeguard the things you love most, day and night.?

Interested parties may reach out to Lilexo?s customer support team to follow up on any inquiries they may have.
