Pensacola Area Kitchen Countertop Provider Features Countertop Materials for Thanksgiving Holiday

November 20, 2019

November 20, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pensacola, FL. ? Emerald Coast Granite and Tile, a Pensacola area kitchen countertop provider, is featuring a few of their countertop materials this month. With Thanksgiving right around the corner, Emerald Coast Granite and Tile wants to show their community a few different countertop types they can use to update their home before they host Thanksgiving dinner.

The first countertop material Emerald Coast is featuring this month is granite. Granite is a very common countertop material for many reasons. First, granite is relatively inexpensive compared to other countertop materials like marble. Despite the low cost, granite is very beautiful and fits the design and color scheme of many different kitchens.

The second countertop material the tile provider in Pensacola is featuring is quartz. Quartz is a beautiful white and gray stone that makes any kitchen look expensive. Quartz is popular because of its durability; it's one of the hardest countertop materials on the market. Another reason is that, unlike granite, quartz isn't porous. This means quartz isn't as susceptible to bacteria as granite or other countertop materials.

Whichever countertop material customers choose to implement in their home, Emerald Coast Granite and Tile is dedicated to unbeatable service. We combine quality natural stone products and exceptional customer service with our goal of always exceeding our customers' expectations," states Emerald Coast. In addition, they promise, "We will match or beat any reasonable quote that you have in writing from a local competitor." Thanksgiving is all about family, food, and being thankful. It's always nice to have an updated kitchen to show off when family comes over.
