MN Criminal Defense Attorney Can Help with Wire Fraud Cases

December 02, 2019

MINNEAPOLIS, MN - December 02, 2019 -
Birrell Law Firm, based in Minneapolis, MN, has announced that they can provide a criminal defense lawyer who can help people in Minnesota who have been charged with wire fraud. It should be noted that federal prosecutors are aggressive in prosecuting fraud cases. Oftentimes, they will charge a person with both mail and wire fraud. For these cases, the prosecution will need to prove that the person had specific intent to defraud. Since these are often complicated cases, having a skilled and experienced MN wire fraud attorney can make a lot of difference.

Ian Birrell, a partner at the law firm, says, ?It is important to note that wire fraud is a federal crime that carries a sentence of not more than 20 years? imprisonment and fines of up to $250,000 for individuals and $500,000 for organizations. Having the skilled dedicated wire fraud attorneys from Birrell Criminal Defense, fighting wire or mail fraud charges on your behalf can make a difference. These are complicated fact intensive matters that need to be handled carefully. Please do not hesitate to contact us to speak with a lawyer about your situation in a private setting to see how we can help you.?

The Birrell Criminal Defense attorneys also want people to realize that it is not necessary for the prosecution to show that a person has personally sent a fraudulent communication or actually defrauded someone. It is enough for them to prove that there was an intent to defraud or the person acted with knowledge of fraudulent communications being sent.

There are a number of typical examples of wire fraud. These include Ponzi schemes, stealing money or property by using a scheme or artifice, pyramid schemes, money laundering, check kiting schemes, tax evasion, Internet fraud, and embezzlement. Those who are interested in the services of a criminal defense attorney can visit this link to learn more about Birrell Law Firm.

A Ponzi scheme is a type of fraud tries to lure investors by paying profits to earlier investors from the funds provided by more recent investors. A pyramid scheme is a form of investment where each paying participant recruits more participants, with returns being given to the early participants using money coming from later participants. Money laundering is the process of hiding the origins of money that was obtained illegally to make it seem like it had been lawfully earned. Check kiting takes advantage of the float to use non-existent funds in a bank or checking account. Internet fraud is done with the use of websites, email, chat rooms, and message boards. Embezzlement is the unlawful taking of property of somebody else by the one to whom it was entrusted.

Birrell Law Firm can also provide legal assistance to people who have been charged with other criminal offenses aside from wire fraud. These include bank fraud, federal target letter, healthcare fraud, insider trading, identity theft, RICO, money laundering, tax evasion, and securities fraud.

Birrell Law Firm has attorneys who have gained recognition from the Super Lawyers, Minnesota State Bar Association, American Board of Criminal Lawyers, American College of Trial Lawyers, and National Board of Trial Advocacy. The criminal justice attorney practice group is headed by Partner Andrew Birrell. He is a board certified criminal law specialist by the Minnesota State Bar Association, a board certified criminal trial advocate by the National Board of Trial Advocacy, ?AV-Rated? by Martindale-Hubbell, a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, and more. Partner Ian Birrell is an honors graduate of the University of Minnesota Law School where he was the recipient of a Robina Scholarship for all three years of law school. He has participated in many jury trials in both federal and state courts.

Andrew Birrell and Ian Birrell are former prosecutors and know how the police and the prosecution work. They are familiar with the common mistakes that are often committed by the police, particularly in gathering evidence. They are able to use such knowledge for the advantage of their clients.
