Brinton Vision?s St. Louis LASIK Patients Benefit from Expansion

November 26, 2019

Fort Worth, Texas - November 26, 2019 -
LASIK patients in St. Louis get more elbow room with an expansion of Brinton Vision that more than doubles clinical space.

St. Louis, Missouri ? Brinton Vision has completed a renovation of the offices and clinical space of its eye surgery center, providing an increasing volume of patients and staff with the space needed to continue providing superior care. The practice, located at 555 N. New Ballas Road in St. Louis, Missouri, added office space on the second floor and expanded in space adjacent to the original third-floor practice that opened in 2016.

The expansion more than doubled Brinton Vision?s space to approximately 10,000 square feet and increased the number of patient suites from six to 11. Optometrists Dr. JJ Lant and Dr. Taylor Chesnut, and vision correction surgeon Dr. Steven Tersigni joined the staff alongside owner Dr. Jason Brinton and Dr. Morgan Poore. The space also includes an area for a future fitness center and a team room with a staff lounge.

A third-generation ophthalmologist, Dr. Brinton said he has always focused his practice on addressing the specific needs of each patient and assisting them with the information and care they need to make informed decisions about eye health.

?This expansion is an important step for us just three years in business,? said Dr. Brinton. ?We?ve been so blessed that our patients have embraced our boutique approach to providing LASIK and vision correction surgery. That?s driven growth and given me the opportunity to welcome three more full-time doctors to my team. Our office, our patient care facilities, our staff and our technology all speak to our dedication to giving the best care and the most comforting experience to everyone who walks through our doors.?

To that end, the staff greets each person by name and offers a drink and snack menu for their brief wait. The reception area is finished in warm neutrals, and the furnishings are more evocative of a cozy living room than a medical setting. Guests can savor a beverage and a snack on a chic chair or sofa topped with pillows.

On the clinical side, Brinton Vision is equipped with nine sophisticated diagnostic machines that precisely measure and map out the eye in 3D from the front of the cornea to the back of the retina so the doctors can deliver the most accurate treatment. The practice specializes in LASIK plus all six modern LASIK variations, including SBK, ASA, SMILE, Visian ICL, KAMRA® Inlay and Refractive Lens Exchange (RLE).
