The Art of Dentistry has announced that they provide sedation dentistry services in San Diego, California, and neighboring areas. This sedation dentistry San Diego dental office offers an effective and safe way to help people who have dental anxiety to get the dental treatment that they need. Sedation dentistry may be appropriate not just for those who have dental anxiety but also for those who have fear or needles or drills; dental phobia, sensitive teeth; sensitive gag reflex; and low pain tolerance.

Merri Turner, Director of Operations and Marketing at The Art of Dentistry, says, ?Even though sedation dentistry won?t necessarily put you to sleep, it will keep you relaxed and comfortable throughout the time that our dentists take care of the work you need. Whether it?s a brief procedure you?re feeling anxious about, or your choice to get all of your fillings done in one long day if you?re looking for sedation dentistry near me, The Art of Dentistry can make you more comfortable than anywhere else.?

The expert dentists at The Art of Dentistry always make the patients their top priority, ensuring that patients are relaxed and comfortable, and possibly even enjoy the experience. The team of dentists at the dental office include Dr. Lawrence Addleson, Dr. R. Douglas Campbell, and Dr. David Landau. Dr. Addleson is focused on restorative, reconstructive and cosmetic dentistry. He has developed a reputation of being a highly regarded dentist throughout the world. Dr. Campbell is famous for this expertise and exceptional patient care. Because of this extensive dental knowledge and education, he has been made Fellow of the Academy of General Dentistry. Dr. Landau is also a well-known dentist who focuses on restorative, cosmetic, and reconstructive dentistry. He graduate cum laude in 1982 from the University of the Pacific.

Aside from sedation dentistry, The Art of Dentistry offers general dentistry, implant dentistry, and cosmetic dentistry services. General dentistry services include gum disease treatment. This is important because research studies have shown that gum disease may be linked to various systemic illnesses, such as stroke; heart disease; diabetes; pancreatic, head and neck cancer; and preterm labor or low birth weight babies. They provide laser gum surgery, which is minimally invasive, safe, virtually pain free, effective, and allows for faster healing times.

The Art of Dentistry also offers dental implants for missing teeth. These are artificial teeth that offer a permanent solution for missing or damaged teeth. These are rooted in the bone using a titanium post that provides the structure for a ceramic crown. This artificial tooth will be able to provide the same functionality as the original tooth. Furthermore, it is long lasting and is an investment that offers various advantages, such as renewed confidence, decreased risk of further tooth loss, restored appearance, revitalized oral health, prevention of bone loss progression, and ability to eat and speak normally.

The Art of Dentistry also provides cosmetic dentistry services. They can provide porcelain veneers, bonding, and teeth whitening. They also offer CEREC® technology, which provides a modern, efficient and concise solution for tooth restorations. This technology offers same day restorative dentistry through crowns, bridges and veneers. It offers the benefit of being able to avoid goopy impressions, long waiting periods, temporary crowns, and multiple dental appointments.

Another service provided is straighter teeth with the Invisalign® clear alignment system. This offers various advantages over the usual metal braces. They are convenient, comfortable, and virtually undetectable. In contrast, traditional braces are irremovable, are very visible, cause difficulty in eating, and require a lengthy and difficult cleaning process.

The Art of Dentistry also offers dental crowns and bridges that are natural looking. Dental crowns are basically a cap that is placed over a damaged tooth. They can be used to restore teeth with various conditions, including large fillings, cracked teeth, excessive wear, root canals, dental implants, and broken cusps.

Those interested in the services of a sedation dentist San Diego residents can depend on can visit their website or contact them on the phone or through email.
