December 05, 2019 -
DigitalRez is pleased to announce that the latest edition of their Campfire Travel e-Magazine is now available online. This November 2019 eMag release is the 11th edition of this popular online travel magazine. The company?s online magazines cater to those who enjoy camping and RVing.

Company spokesperson, Kevin Hall, had this to say on the November 2019 Campfire Travel e-Magazine release, ?Our company?s motto is ?We bring fun, entertainment and news to RV and Camping enthusiasts everywhere?. That is the focus of every Campfire Travel e-Magazine that we post online. The November 2019 edition is no different. It covers everything from exciting camping and RV destinations to fun activities that a family can do as they travel to their destination.?

Hall said that each edition of the Campfire Travel e-Magazine is designed to focus around camping in just a few specific states. The November 2019 edition has camping and RVing articles that center on Kansas, Tennessee, Missouri, and Utah. It features articles on the most famous attractions in all these states. Some of the more generic camping articles that are covered in this edition include ?Must have camping gear? and ?Snacking on the go?. Their November e-Magazine also has sections with easy point and click access to online games and some informational and funny videos. The 11th edition of the online magazine includes some 54 pages in all. These pages are full of useful camping information and ways for people to entertain themselves while on the road.

All the e-Magazines that the company has distributed so far can be quickly accessed from their website. A user just has to follow the menu items across the top of the page until they get to one that says ?e-Magazines?. Once a person gets to that, they simply click on it and then all the magazine editions that the company has distributed online will appear on the linked page.

Hall also went on to describe what Campfire Travel is all about. He says the purpose of their e-Magazines are to both help entertain and inform those who like to go camping across Canada and the USA. The company makes available a new Campfire Travel e-Magazine edition on the 16th of every month. Campfire Travel?s activities are also complemented by their Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram accounts and they have a convenient phone app too. Each edition of their e-magazines also includes some beautiful hi-resolution photos and they are fully downloadable.

He mentioned that the company?s website is full of useful camping and travel information too. The point and click dropdown menu will help users access such topics as camping activities, camping trip suggestions, camping recipes, and the latest camping equipment. There is also an ?RSS? section that features blogs on many informational camping topics. The homepage even includes a handy campground and RV resort search feature.

Among the most popular activities that the company does is their monthly online contests. These include the opportunity to win thousands of dollars in prizes each month. The prizes include such things as vacation stays, electronics, and gift vouchers. Campfire Travel?s contests can be accessed from the website or from links in their e-Magazines.

The company is also very unique in other ways with respect to the camping information that they generate. An example of that is some of the Campfire Travel emags they produce are created for those that like to take their dogs with them when camping. They realize that camping is often a family affair and many times dogs are included in that circle. These editions do such things as list pet-friendly camping areas and give out pointers on how to prepare for a camping trip that includes a dog. There are even tips in these additions on activities to do with a dog when camping so they do not sit idle too often. So far, three editions of the online magazine that focus on taking a dog camping have been distributed online.
