An award-winning photography studio in the San Francisco Bay Area, Wedding Photography by IQphoto, has announced a number of packages for weddings at San Francisco City Hall this upcoming wedding season, including a 2 hour photography package. Details on each of these packages can be found at https://www.iqphoto.com/san-francisco-city-hall-wedding-photographer/. All the photographs in the public portfolio on IQphoto?s website are designed to be gorgeous works of art. They have photographed a variety of weddings, including a number of weddings with LGBT couples. They're open to any and all clients who come their way looking for San Francisco City Hall wedding photos.

IQphoto has ample experience with San Francisco City Hall wedding photography, so they know how to expertly frame the happy couple in the building?s grand architecture. The design of the building and the elegant staircases stand out in any Bay Area wedding photography. The photos and video captured by IQphoto offer a unique memento of their special day, and this isn?t all that IQphoto has to offer. IQphoto can also help guide the entire City Hall wedding process, including checking in for an elopement, selecting a time and location that is ideal for photos, and finding nearby locations for more eye-catching photos that are unique to each couple they photograph a wedding for. From check in to exploring the SF city as newlyweds after, they are also very experienced with City Hall elopements and can guide the couple through the process of picking a location and checking in to have an elopement ceremony at SF City Hall.

Reviews of IQphoto on WeddingWire, a popular website for planning weddings and reviewing wedding vendors, are extremely positive, giving them 5 out of 5 stars total, as well as in each of five categories including quality of service and value. One especially poignant review comes from Donald, who writes, ?I celebrated the happiest day of my life at SF City Hall, and my wife and I had the privilege of working with Joseph from IQphoto. Let me start off by saying Joseph is a professional. He is courteous, respectful, and most importantly, he understands. He responds to calls/emails right away. He is patient. He provides suggestions when asked. Both my wife and I had consulted with other photographers, and the moment we met with and corresponded with Joseph, we knew he was 'the one'. Joseph and his team that day (Slava, Elliot, and Mark) are all professionals. Slava even showed me a dance move that I incorporated into my first dance! Elliot and I shared a love for chamber music. And Mark and my groomsmen shared bonding moments while just taking some fun goofy pictures. The picture I am trying to paint is that when you work with IQphoto, you work with individuals who not only capture your wedding day but enrich the entire experience.?

After praising the experience of working with IQphoto, Donald expressed his deep satisfaction with the artistry of photography. ?Now let me say something about Joseph,? he continues. ?In the midst of the wedding, while we were focused on taking some pictures, there was a moment where we were just joking around looking at a water fountain and all of sudden Joseph had an idea for a shot that was simply genius. It was amazing to see such an artistic and talented individual at work. This story exemplifies what it is like to work with Joseph. In addition to the classic portraits, he gets those 'shots' that every bride and groom dreams of - the ones that capture the moment, the emotion, and preserves everything about that memory in a single frame. IQphoto is more than just photographers. They are our friends. And we look forward to working with them again in the future at any opportunity we can. Thank you Slava, Mark, Elliot and, most of all Joseph, for helping make our dreams come true.?
