The portfolio for IQphoto also includes a variety of photographs shot at San Francisco City Hall, with its grand architecture and elegant staircases. Not only can IQphoto create stunning photographs of the entire day, from check in to exploring the city as newlyweds after, they are also very experienced with city hall elopements and can guide the couple through the process of picking a location and checking in to have an elopement ceremony at city hall.

Reviews of IQphoto on WeddingWire, a popular website for planning weddings and reviewing wedding vendors, are extremely positive, giving them 5 out of 5 stars total, as well as in each of five categories including quality of service and value. One especially poignant review comes from Angela, who writes,

?Sublime. I do not use this word often, but it is the only word that comes close to describing our gorgeous wedding images from Alex at IQphoto. They are so beautifully composed, lit, and imagined that sometimes I forget to breathe while I'm looking at them. We chose a San Francisco City Hall wedding, and it was just the two of us. Alex was warm, professional, kind, funny, helpful, and unobtrusive. It was important to me to feel close to the person I was getting married to, to experience the day from moment to moment, and, indeed, I felt that way the whole time. The photography seemed to follow us like a soft mist at the periphery of our enjoyment of each other. We shot some photos at City Hall, which were beyond lovely, and truly enjoyed the chance to take additional photos at our favorite bookstore and Italian cafe area in North Beach. The images from these secondary locations made our wedding feel truly unique to us, adding an element of playfulness, color, and whimsy that will be part of our treasured history every time we come back to visit. I cannot speak highly enough of Alex, Joseph, Masha, and all of the staff at IQphoto. Every interaction, both in person and via email, was professional and exceeded my expectations. It is a bit unnerving to choose a wedding photographer when you are from out of town, but choose IQphoto and fear not! Your photos will be spectacular!?
