August 10, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Buffalo New York company Enzo's Private Selection has recently introduced a new product to their lineup. The Enzo Matcha Travel Neck Pillow is now available in the Amazon marketplace.

Not only has the company released the product, they are also vowing to give back to the community with every purchase, says Robert Cruso, spokesperson for Enzo's Private Selection.

"Enzo's Organic Matcha gives back 10% to help fight the Ebola epidemic whilst Enzo's Travel Pillow gives back 10% to adopt polar bears and help raise awareness for global warming."

Upon launching the new neck pillow on Amazon, the company gave away 200 pillows, and has now received more than 90 reviews.

Enzo's Private Selection, which has been featured on major television networks like Fox, CBS, ABC, and NBC, also offers natural green tea powder. The 100 percent organic Matcha tea contains a formula that is well known for its ability to increase metabolism, enabling users to burn fat faster than without it.

The neck pillow is a memory foam pillow that contains cooling gel, which allows it to offer extreme comfort along with cervical neck support. The pillow is covered in velour, and the unique design offers quality support that can be enjoyed at home, in the car, or on a plane.

The cooling gel prevents excess heat, and helps to reduce neck pain and muscle cramps when traveling. The cooling gel is absorbent, and prevents overheating while lying on the pillow. The memory foam offers a rebound time of approximately three to five seconds. The pillow also features a hypoallergenic, easy to carry design, and is completely nontoxic.

Enzo's Private Selection offers a two year warranty, and complete money back guarantee on the pillow, as they do on the majority of their products.

Enzo's Private Selection provides holistic or otherwise naturally created products that are designed for overall health and wellbeing. As one Amazon customer stated, "They're all about natural and healthy. I love the green tea powder, and use it every single day. I wouldn't dream of ordering from anyone but Enzo's. Their products are always high quality."

Enzo's Private Selection

It all started from a young man, named Enzo, needing the extra boost of energy to keep up with his college studies. He traveled the world during his internship and found himself visiting a tea farm. The company was founded there when Enzo tried Matcha.
