August 11, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Able Auto Repair LLC, a Pensacola, Florida based auto repair center, has announced that they are now certified to work on hybrid vehicles. The company is an independently owned and operated service, founded in 2007. It provides automotive repair Pensacola residents can make use of for a wide range of vehicle brands and types, and now has mechanics on staff who can repair hybrid vehicles.

Chris DeLoney, one of the owners and founders of Able Auto Repair LLC, stated: "We're pleased to be able to go that extra mile to assist our customers. So many car manufacturers are coming out with hybrids these days that it just made sense for us to become certified to repair them."

Able Auto Repair is a certified auto facility, meaning that they can guarantee most repairs for up to 12 months or 12,000 miles to nationwide customers. They are experienced in computer engine diagnostics, and offer a range of services including brakes, engine and transmission repair, alternators, electrical systems, and more. These include automotive air conditioning Pensacola car owners can depend on.

They also offer towing services, and can perform factory-recommended maintenance. Their certification in hybrid vehicle repair enables them to perform services on electrical systems used to run electric cars, as well as other issues that hybrid vehicles may experience.

Certification in hybrid automobile repair is designed to train mechanics through a program of comprehensive topics, ensuring that they can handle most issues that come through their service centers. This is an advanced education course, and Able Auto Repair mechanics have taken and successfully passed all requirements to meet hybrid vehicle repair certification.

"I have used Able Auto Repair for years and I wouldn't think of trusting my car to anyone else," says one Pensacola resident. "We just purchased a hybrid this year and you can bet that when it needs servicing, it's going to Able."

ASE certified, Able Auto Repair has more than 40 years of combined experienced and offer free shuttle service within five miles of their business location, along with discounted towing services. When looking for a mechanic Pensacola residents can rely on with regards to hybrid vehicles, car owners can contact the company to learn more.
