

Lusso Gear Grows Car Interior Accessories Brand

December 16, 2019

December 16, 2019 -

Lusso Gear announced that they have recently passed a new milestone for their handcrafted car interior accessory products. Their products are now available on their website and on their Amazon page. These include car seat protectors, car organizers, baby mirrors for cars, kids travel trays, car trash cans, car air freshener bags, and glove box document holders. They want to point out that these products have been designed to make cars safer and more enjoyable for both kids and parents.

Alan Townsend, a spokesperson for Lusso Gear, says, "We have diversified our range of products to ensure your safety along with your family's protection. We understand that driving with babies and infants in your car can become quite a daunting task at times. Crying babies can divert the driver's attention. Our products aim to help you organize your car rides with your child. You can enjoy a smooth comfortable ride, while you buckle in and make your child feel comfortable and secure with our car seat protectors and organizers. We have upheld the high standard and quality of our products to provide you with the most durable collection of our finest range of car kick mats and seat organizers." Those who want to follow the company and its car accessory product updates, can check out Lusso Gear on Twitter.

Lusso Gear offers car seat protectors. The car seat protector can be used as a child care seat or for sitting comfort or fabric protection. It combines comfortable padding, reinforced stitching, and hassle free maintenance. It is also designed not to slip or slide because of its adjustable safety straps to tie the seat cover securely to the headrest. This ensures the user that the seat protector will not be sliding off the seat or sliding under the legs. It has been provided with anti-slip dots for additional grip. To ensure durability, it is constructed from high quality PVC leather. Basically, they are used to avoid damage caused by beverages or food spills because this seat protector is water-resistant.

Meanwhile, people can also get the kick mat with 3 or 4 pockets to protect the backseat totally and easily. These kick mat organizers have been designed to fit all kinds of cars, including jeeps, vans, trucks, SUVs and more. It has been designed for heavy duty use and it can be cleaned using a washing machine - particularly handing during the many snow storms this time of year. More benefits are shown in detail here: <https://www.lussogear.com/collections/car-seat-protectors>.

And then there is the Baby Car Mirror designed for the toddler's safety. It is designed for parents to never let their baby out of sight where the toddler is seated in the back seat, even while they are driving and their baby is in a rear-facing car seat. A key feature of this backseat mirror is that it has a secure mount system that will ensure that it will stay in place and not require constant adjustment while providing a completely adjustable, convex, wide angle view of the baby. To ensure safety, this car mirror is provided with a protective frame and made of shatterproof acrylic, and it has been crash tested.

Lusso Gear also offers the Kids Travel Tray, where children can keep their books, toys, and other gear. This will ensure that the kids are occupied while traveling. Everything that parents need to keep their toddlers, preschoolers and even school age children happily preoccupied with their activities can be placed in this tray, minimizing the risk of the kids nagging their parents while they're traveling.

Another car accessory product offered by Lusso Gear is the car trash can. Two kinds of car trash cans are available. There is the regular car trash can, which is easy to mount or hang anywhere in the car. It has a capacity of 2.5 gallons of litter to ensure that there would be no need for frequent emptying. And for those who prefer a smaller trash can, Lusso Gear also offers a mini car trash can.

Those who are interested in the car interior accessory products can check out the Lusso Gear Amazon store page or the Lusso Gear website, or contact them on the phone or through email.
