December 12, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Concord, CA- Alpine Awards, a corporate recognition store in Concord, CA is featuring some of their corporate recognition gifts this month. Alpine Awards' promotion is just in time for the holiday season, as many companies are looking for ways to thank their employees for another year of hard work and excellence. The top awards and corporate gifts store, Alpine Awards, is featuring acrylic awards, glass awards, and name tags.

The first corporate recognition award Alpine Awards is featuring this month are their acrylic awards. According to Alpine, acrylic awards make great corporate recognition gifts because they are both fanciful and inexpensive. Acrylic awards have the appearance of high-quality materials like glass but don't cost nearly as much, which is great for price-conscious employers. Alpine Awards recommends laser engraving an acrylic award with the employees' name, title, and achievement they're being recognized for. The second award the trophy store in Concord, CA is featuring this month is a glass award. As described by Alpine, glass awards are like acrylic awards in shape and design. The main difference is the material used. Glass awards are naturally more expensive than acrylic awards because of the materials used. However, for exceptional employees or for recognizing outstanding achievement, Alpine Awards recommends glass awards.

The final employee recognition award Alpine Awards is featuring for the holiday season is their custom engraved name tag. Alpine Awards shared that name tags make great corporate gifts because they fit the corporate setting. They are both a practical and thoughtful gift. They help make staff look more professional and uniform, while also helping customers identify staff. Alpine Awards recommends this gift for all employees. They also suggest having the company's logo engraved onto the name tag.
