December 31, 2019

December 31, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

San Diego, California based property management company Melroy Property Management is pleased to announce that they are offering residential property management services, along with investment services and commercial property management services.

Residential property managers assist investment property owners and homeowners to preserve and increase the value of their real estate investments. They manage the day-to-day financial operations of the property, including locating and placing qualified tenants, and they also take charge of ensuring that the property is in good working order.

Vida Melroy, a representative for Melroy Property Management, says, "As residential property managers, we hold a lot of responsibility. We know that we are the day-to-day managers of your property and, more often than not, the face of it as well. As such, we take our responsibilities very seriously. With Melroy Property Management's residential property management services, you are assured effective property management that will maximize the return on your investment."

Melroy Property Management is a full-service property management company that can help investors and property owners alike realize their investment goals. In addition to residential property management, Melroy Property Management offers full service commercial property management in San Diego.

The company has remained a leader in the real estate investment industry since their founding in 1969, and they have managed to keep abreast of the economic fluctuations that affect the direction of this specialized field. Melroy says, "Depending on what you need as an investor, you can be constantly in touch with us as we guide you through the investment process or receive updated information on current market conditions as you need it. In addition to residential property management, Melroy Investments, Inc. offers a plethora of investment services."

These services have earned the company a high degree of praise from satisfied customers. On Google, for instance, they have a rating of 4.3/5 Stars. In a recent review, a user by the name of "The Li Family" says, "Martha and Lou are amazing. We lived here before and moved back East. We wised up after a winter and came back to SD. The first place we contacted was Melroy Properties. I was surprised to see Lou remembered us. It was as if we never left. We are super happy with the service and warm welcome from the staff. Thank you all very much, and we are so happy to be back."

In another review, Nicole Powers says, "Melroy staff, especially our manager, were very helpful and marvelously helped me with issues I recently had. I got so worried about being so late in paying my rent so I contacted management first to address the issue. It went well and I explained that I would be able to pay on next payday with late payment charges as well as the NSF."

Wayne Bell also praises the company in his review. He says, "I had the pleasure of working with Jamie Fields, and thankfully so, I found my new apartment within one day! She made the process of finding a new apartment to lease easier, and I couldn't have done it without her help. With her expertise, I was able to find an apartment that was suited perfectly for me. Thank you, Jamie Fields, I highly recommend her!"

Melroy says, "We believe the reason for all of our success is the fact that we have built our company on the philosophy of prioritizing our clients and helping them reach their goals, whatever they are, since we began working in the field. Whether they are looking for an affordable apartment or searching for the next great investment opportunity, we deliver nothing but our best to them."
