The Dearborn, Michigan based plastic surgeon Masri Clinic For Laser And Cosmetic Surgery (Dearborn) is reaching out to the wider community to announce that they provide rhinoplasty services. New patients are welcome to contact the clinic for a consultation at their earliest convenience.

Rhinoplasty, or cosmetic nose surgery, is more commonly known as a "nose job" and is a complex and challenging procedure to perform. This is due to the fact that it involves modifying the size and shape of the nose to suit the patient's face while maintaining or improving their ability to breathe. According to the Masri Clinic, a person's nose must be customized to fit their other facial features, their goals, and their personality.

Rhinoplasty and revision rhinoplasty are a focus of the Masri Clinic for Laser and Cosmetic Surgery in Dearborn as well as Birmingham, Michigan. The clinic performs both cosmetic rhinoplasty and reconstructive nasal airway surgery, sometimes combining these techniques to improve both the appearance of the nose and the patient's ability to breathe.

Dr. Haitham Masri, lead surgeon and owner of the Masri Clinic For Laser And Cosmetic Surgery (Dearborn), says, "The nose is our most prominent facial feature, making it one of the first things we notice about one another. Unfortunately, many people are dissatisfied with the appearance of their noses or suffer from poor quality of life due to breathing problems from an issue within the nasal structures. If you are unsatisfied with the way your nose looks now, we can fix that for you and give you the complete, beautiful look that you deserve, creating improved facial harmony, balance, and boosting overall facial aesthetics."

"Nasal anatomy and the healing process for each individual patient can be vastly different and can affect the final rhinoplasty results," says Dr. Masri. "While overall results may vary, a skilled plastic surgeon will have years of experience in creating consistently excellent results for patients of all backgrounds. At the Masri Clinic For Laser And Cosmetic Surgery, we have talented surgeons who consider every important factor before they perform rhinoplasty to ensure the end result is the best looking version of your nose."

In addition to rhinoplasty and other cosmetic nasal surgeries, the Masri Clinic For Laser And Cosmetic Surgery (Dearborn) also provides other cosmetic services such as facial contouring, facelifts (both surgical and non-surgical), acne and scarring treatments, skin care with lasers and chemical peels, injectables with body contouring, and more.
