

Steel Horse Towing Now Offering Rapid Response for Roadside Assistance Service in Memphis, TN

December 30, 2019

December 30, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

With the advent of the cold winter months, Steel Horse Towing has decided to invest in providing accelerated responses for all emergency roadside assistance services in Memphis, TN, and the surrounding areas. As one of the seasoned towing companies in the area, they understand that car breakdown tends to be more common and requests for emergency assistance increase during this season.

The company has also responded to the demand with improved customer service. At this premier towing company, the whole organization works relentlessly every day to ensure their customers are happy and satisfied. One of their guiding goals to achieve this mission is by decreasing the customer wait time when it comes to towing and roadside assistance.

Steel Horse Towing normally responds to calls in a timely manner. They also always show up to the customer site on schedule. With this latest announcement, they are further stepping up their game. They are adding emergency response teams in key locations to provide faster response times to underserved communities such as Brice, Wylie Spur, Eads, Sloanville, Midway Corner, Louise, and Ebony, to name a few. A comprehensive directory of their service coverage areas can be found at <http://gmbp.in/u/5d7020ccc3aeb>.

By going out of their way to deliver fast and competent services to stranded drivers, their goal is to keep people safe when they need it the most. "When our car broke down, we quickly went online and searched for roadside repair near me," says William Gardner, a resident of Island Forty. "Time was not on our side. We were driving home from work and needed someone to quickly jumpstart our battery before it gets very cold in the night. Steel Horse Towing came to our rescue in less than 20 minutes to start our car. We didn't have to wait and worry for long." As an organization committed to helping people, the tow truck provider aspires to have more customer accounts like this.

Steel Horse Towing has been in the towing and roadside assistance industry for several years. They have been helping people encountering car lockouts, empty fuel, flat tire, overheated vehicles, and flat tires. Aside from professional and skilled technicians, the company invests in modern technology and tools to ensure that their services are at par with the standards that their brand is known for.

Regular training is also provided to workers to ensure that they are up-to-date with the latest information and trends in their industry. Greyson Benjamin, the representative of the company, explains, "Our workers' proficiency both comes from extensive experience and continuous learning." The company also recognizes the fact that the cost of towing and roadside assistance is something that most people don't normally prepare for. After all, it is something that many drivers don't want to deal with. Car breakdowns are almost always unforeseen and inconvenient, but roadside help can be expensive especially from some companies that take advantage of the emergency. Because of this, Steel Horse Towing has pledged to keep its services fair and transparent. Aside from providing all costs upfront, the company also provides additional discounts to customers to keep prices at bay. You don't even have to be a regular customer to avail of them.

With decades of extensive experience in towing and roadside assistance service, Steel Horse Towing has provided practically all kinds of driver's assistance that one can possibly imagine. However, their emergency rescue teams remain enthusiastic more than ever in delivering affordable and top-quality services. They want to ensure the road safety of the general driving community in Memphis, TN. All towing workers are fully licensed, certified, and insured to ensure the best care that customers deserve.
