February 13, 2020 -
Golden Valley, Minnesota based cleaning company Handi Commercial Cleaning - Commercial Cleaning Services is pleased to announce that they are providing green office cleaning services in Golden Valley and the surrounding areas.

According to Handi Commercial Cleaning, green office cleaning is the term used to describe the application of cleaning methods and products that are made with eco-friendly ingredients uniquely designed to address environmental and health concerns in equal measure. The company says that, while green office cleaning can protect the outdoors against hazardous chemicals, it can also significantly improve the environment.

Robin Handy, a representative for Handi Commercial Cleaning, states, ?What people don?t often realize is that pollution indoors is actually 2-5 times worse than pollution outdoors. Due to poor ventilation, harmful chemicals in the air have nowhere to go and, eventually, they build up. For this reason, indoor air causes up to 50% of illnesses.?

?Most people spend a considerable amount of their time in the office workplace,? observes Handy. ?According to various researchers, 3-4 minutes a day are lost for every worker who works in a bad indoor environment. It might just be a few minutes, whether it is rubbing eyes, blowing a nose, or dealing with a headache, but it will have a significant impact on the office?s overall performance. Every single member of our staff is highly trained in green cleaning methods, and we can clean every room and surface in your office with eco-friendly products and tools.?

In addition, Handi Commercial Cleaning provides a number of other services. They offer a commercial cleaning service that removes dirt from upholstery, VCT floors, stone care, odor removal and more, Janitorial Service (taking out the trash, washing windows, dusting, re-stocking, cleaning bathrooms, and much more) and a dedicated commercial carpet cleaning service. More information about the company?s capabilities can be found at the following link: MN Commercial Cleaning Services.

Handy says, ?With our work, a high standard of quality is assured. Our crews go through green cleaning certification programs to ensure total environmental safety. We also utilize a color-coded system to ensure that the cleaning materials used stay specific to each area. This means our cleaners will not be using the same cloth they use in the bathroom as the one used on a desk.?

Handi Commercial Cleaning has proven themselves to be a provider of stellar cleaning services, as made evident by the company?s customer reviews. On Google, they have a perfect rating of 5/5 stars. In a recent review shared on this platform, Linda Calvert says, ?I wanted you to know what a great job Courtney is doing with the cleaning at Madison Lofts. I am around a lot during the day and I see how hard he works, how thoughtful he is about his job, and how helpful he is to residents with their questions. I know we go in and out with cleaning folks. I hope he stays a while.?

Meanwhile, in a 5-Star review left on HomeAdvisor, Tracy A. says that, ?From our first meeting, I was impressed. I knew the extent and costs, and was clear on what they could do. The mess that was left by the contractor removing the old tile was epic. The dust was everywhere, from floor to ceiling. I called Handi Commercial Cleaning and had to have them do the work while I was out of town. I came home to our spotless office space that was ready for our carpet install, painting, etc. and kept us on time for completion. Thanks to Robin and his team for doing such an amazing job and putting my mind at ease that it would all be done right. We are looking to have them do maintenance cleaning as well because of their dedication to customer service and a quality job.?
