January 10, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

American Custom Contractors joins Habitat for Humanity Metro Maryland in recognizing and identifying the importance of providing strength, stability, and self-reliance through shelter. Supporting Habitat for Humanity's 2019 Women Build Project, American Custom Contractors joined as an in-kind donor by providing the material and labor necessary to build roofs for two single family units. The first home is located on Jost Street in Fairmont Heights, and the other one on Opus Avenue in Capital Heights.

On March 22, 2019, American Custom Contractors' CEO, Demetri Giakoumatos, broke ground for the Jost Street home with elected officials and other sponsors, including Congressman Anthony Brown, Community Leader Pastor R. Kevin Matthews, John Pauktis, President and CEO of Habitat for Humanity, and Stephanie Anderson representing Habitat for Humanity Metro Maryland.

On July 1, 2019, the roof for the Jost Street home was completed. The Habitat for Humanity roofing installation used all components of the five-part GAF WeatherStopper system. The project was installed according to Prince George's County codes and GAF's specifications.

American Custom Contractors was founded in 1972 by Alivizis and Agnes Giakoumatos. The current owners are William Giakoumatos and Demetri Giakoumatos.
