January 28, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The SeboCalm hydrating moisturizer for sensitive skin can be used in the reduction of redness, itchiness and flaky skin, according to a clinically controlled study that was published in the international Journal of Dermatological Treatment. This particular moisturizer has been found to reduce the symptoms of acne, seborrheic dermatitis, blemishes, and rosacea. It is recommended by dermatologists as an anti-rash and anti-itching skincare product. This hydrating rash reducer has also been shown to be cruelty free and to be free from parabens, cortisone and sulfates.

The SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer has also been subjected to a hypoallergenic test and sensitivity test at the Institute of Skin Research in Israel. The results showed that this particular facial moisturizer can be used for all skin types, particularly those that are oily, normal to dry, and combination. It was also shown to be capable of decreasing irritated, red, sensitive and itchy skin symptoms. It has also been found to minimize pores and that it can also be used as an after-shave moisturizer or after sun moisturizer. And those who have tried it indicate that it feels gentle, non-oily, calming, and lightweight. And it was also found to have a very high antioxidant properties. It is a vegan, cruelty free and hypoallergenic product that can be used by both men and women of all ages.

Meanwhile, aside from the SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer, also available on Amazon is a face toner for sensitive oily skin with effects that complement that of the former. The SeboCalm Pore Minimizer Face Toner for Sensitive Skin is a hypoallergenic and vegan exfoliating and redness relief facial skin toner that is water based and designed for use on the face and neck. This has also been dermatologically and clinically tested to be a safe skin health product. It is free from sulfates, parabens, and alcohol, and it is suitable for redness, eczema, dryness, rosacea, blemish, pimples, and blackheads. It has also been found to have skin disinfection and pore refining properties. It can exfoliate and shrink pore for sebum control. It contains a unique combination of extracts from plants, specifically Cucumber and Aloe barbadensis extracts. The plant extracts plus the sugars and amino acids in this face toner have been found to soften the skin and to enhance moisture binding. It also contains glycolic and lactic acid to eliminating dead skin cells and for stimulating skin regeneration.

The SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer, on the other hand, makes use of a unique two plant combination. These are the Black Cohosh Root and Aloe barbadensis. The Black Cohosh Root is often used for medicinal purposes. It has been found to help in reducing inflammation and to act as an antioxidant or anti-inflammatory agent. Aloe barbadensis is a unique strain of aloe vera that has been found to have moisturizing, soothing and healing characteristics. It also has anti-fungal and anti-inflammatory effects and it can be used for skin irritations and skin cuts.

Meanwhile, another SeboCalm product that can complement the SeboCalm Facial Moisturizer and is also available on Amazon is the SeboCalm Sensitive Skin Face Soap. This has been found to be the best face wash for sensitive skin dermatologist recommended products. It is a non oily facial cleaning soap that can get rid of dirt and minimize blemishes without causing skin irritation. It is able to clean pores and it is a water based daily repair face wash that has been approved by dermatologists. It also makes use of a unique plant combination. It contains extracts from chamomile, seaweed, cornmeal, and coconut. The concentrated chamomile extract provides the ability to soothe and relieve red and sensitive skin. The seaweed extract has the ability to condition the skin and maintain its elasticity. Extracts from cornmeal and coconut are skin-friendly ingredients that provide gentle and adequate cleansing without causing the skin to irritated or feeling dry.
