With All My Art, based in Ocala, Florida, has announced that its available art classes for the next semester are filling up fast. There are still a few places left, but anyone interested in the classes should sign up now as enrollment will be closing in the middle of February.

With All My Art works to inspire both children and adults through the incredible world of art. They have a "Creative Art Club" which is aimed at children from ages six to nine. These courses are taught at an age-appropriate level and will help children develop an appreciation for, and enjoyment of, art.

Many parents are not aware of how helpful positive exposure to art education is for children. A recent large scale, randomized study of students in Texas clearly showed that there is strong evidence that educational art experiences can produce significant positive impacts on academic and social development. Furthermore, this study showed that increases in art education resulted in statistically significant reductions in disciplinary infractions, increases in compassion for others, and improvements in writing achievement. Many years of other studies have shown similar effects.

All other classes at With All My Art are aimed at older students, from young teens to adults. The studio has a required pre-requisite class which generally must be taken before any of the others. This is the Drawing I course, which is listed as an enjoyable introduction to studio art. The lessons will help beginner artists understand important art fundamentals and introduce drawing principles that they can build on in the future.

Prospective students who feel that they are ready for intermediate or advanced courses may present a portfolio of work and, if approved, they will be allowed to start with one of the other courses.

In addition, they offer a watercolor course, which teaches the fundamentals of working with watercolor tools, paints, and techniques. Students will complete a frameable piece of artwork with the subject of their choice.

during the course. Other classes include pastels, advanced drawing, and oil painting.

The courses are taught by Emilie and Benjamin Swanson. Emilie has studied under art professionals and has completed a college-level course in art. She has also won numerous awards for her work. There are several examples of her art on the With All My Art website. Living in Ocala, she particularly enjoys painting horses.

Benjamin Swanson is currently a college student majoring in visual arts/graphic design. He has worked as a homeschool co-op elementary art teacher and has written and illustrated several children's books. He enjoys working with children of all ages.

Julie, whose son attended a With All My Art class, had this to say: "My son began with Emilie and With All My Art hoping to simply gain some drawing skills, but within three months, he had created a portrait that stunned us and a water color that was so detailed and beautiful that we couldn't believe the quick progress. Emilie is able to work with beginning to advanced artists and has such an encouraging and professional demeanor. I would encourage anyone to study art with her if you want a safe, wholesome and excellent learning environment."

With All My Art has gained a significant reputation for itself in the local community for providing art classes to both children and adults who would like to learn or to improve their artistic techniques. The classes are extremely popular with children and adults alike, and the company has received many positive and enthusiastic reviews.

Sara, another parent whose children studied at With all My Art said, "This studio has given my children a lovely art education. My daughters have developed their talents exponentially under Emilie's teaching. I am quite pleased with the classes offered, the excellent teaching and the personal attention my girls receive."

Further in-depth information about With All My Art and the classes offered can be found on its website as well as its With All My Art Facebook page.
