January 23, 2020 -
Austin Vision Therapy Center, an optometrist based out of Austin, Texas is reaching out to the wider community to explain how they can help resolve their patients vision problems. The Center provides specialized vision therapy programs for adults and children who have issues with their eyesight.

Dr. Denise Smith, founder of Austin Vision Therapy Center, says, ?When I founded this clinic, I had one dream: to revolutionize the lives of people who wanted answers and desired something that was decidedly different from conventional treatment approaches that are designed only to alleviate symptoms instead of treating the core issue. Today, we can proudly state that we have achieved that goal and are continuing to constantly improve our methodologies so that more and more people can benefit from our services.?

Austin Vision Therapy Center is an outstanding choice for anyone who is looking for the most practical vision therapy in Austin. Focusing on excellence, the clinic asserts that they provide their patients with comprehensive vision care that consistently exceeds expectations. According to Dr. Smith, when it comes to serving their patients, the clinic?s philosophy is, ?Whatever it takes.?

Dr. Smith says, ?When we say comprehensive, we mean it. We want the best for you and, to that end, we are dedicated to seeing you through to your full recovery.? The center offers a number of services that go beyond traditional treatment methods. Dr. Smith boasts that the team at Austin Vision Therapy Center prides itself on offering the most modern and comprehensive solutions targeted at treating delayed vision development, poor visual efficiency, learning disabilities, strabismus and amblyopia, attention deficit disorders, traumatic brain injury, and other similar disorders. More information about the clinic and the procedure they perform can be found at the following link: http://austinvisiontherapycenter.com/.

?The field of developmental optometry is constantly evolving, and we are always at the forefront of integrating new procedures into our treatment programs,? states Dr. Smith. ?With the help of the latest technologies, coupled with our highly skilled team, Austin Vision Therapy Center offers answers that few others do. More tools plus more experience equates to more solutions and, ultimately, the best treatment outcomes.?

Austin Vision Therapy Center?s capabilities have earned them many positive reviews from satisfied patients. On Yelp, the clinic has a rating of 4.5 out of 5 Stars. In her 5-Star review, Nicole C. says, ?Dr. Smith and the entire team at CVD are beyond amazing and so talented at what they do. All of the vision therapists have helped my son tremendously during his vision therapy sessions. They have also helped me understand what my son is going through with amblyopia. We just had our very first reevaluation with Dr. Smith, and we found out that he has made great progress?and we've only been going for about 2 1/2 months. I am beyond grateful for finding out about his condition and getting in with the best professionals in the field. It's a shame we weren't recommended this treatment from the pediatric ophthalmologist we went to before coming here. But, luckily, we were told about these treatments from a friend who also had great success with Dr. Smith and her team!?

In another review, Steph C. says, ?I've had an eye turn/lazy eye all my life and was always told that if you don't catch it before you're eight, there's nothing that can be done. Well, Vision Therapy has taught me that's not true! I have learned to control my eye muscles better and am starting to actually use that eye. I still have work to do, but I'm more confident than I've been in a while. If you're an adult who thinks it's too late, it's not! Go see Dr. Smith.?

Dr. Smith says, ?We love what we do and, when you choose us, we dedicate ourselves to finding and providing specialized solutions to meet your individual needs. The service we provide is very personalized. It has to be. That?s just the way we do things around here. We truly take to heart the trust our patients have instilled in us and do everything we can to earn and keep that trust. This is because, at the end of the day, we know it?s not about us, it?s about you.?
