Open Table Boise Catering is now offering wedding catering services. The company has been providing stunning dishes for its local clientele in Boise, Idaho for corporate events, and the addition of weddings to its expanding list of services is good news for future couples.

As one of the premier Boise caterers, Open Table Boise Catering is committed to providing fresh, scratch-made foods that are beautifully presented. Chef April Hale has been catering in Boise since 2007, and has already built a reputation as one of the city's best chefs. Presentation is equally as important as the flavor of her dishes. She buys local and organic whenever possible.

Chef Hale takes pride in Open Table's ability to craft unique, customized menus instead of the standard "select-from-menu" experience. This is what sets the catering business apart from its competitors. "We focus on local and organic ingredients to bring you the best flavors possible while reducing the impact on our environment," the company's representative stated. "Our goal is to provide a stress-free catering experience coupled with the best food in Boise."

As a caterer in Boise, Open Table's years of experience are unparalleled. Clients can expect the company to handle cocktail hours, plated and buffet dinners, and beverage services for their special events. Previous clients Ron and Margaret Ross shared their experience with Open Table on the company's website: "My husband and I have hired April to cater three events for us in the past 14 months. All three events were absolutely perfect due to the professional service of April and her team, and the food was excellent and wonderful."

Handcrafted catering, or a menu personally customized by the client, is the company's expertise. Clients would discuss their menu preferences with the head chef, as well as their goals and visions for their special event. Couples who wish to select from Open Table's menu may do so on its website. After consultation and discussion, the company's event director would take over to ensure organization and coordination between clients and its catering staff. Open Table is committed to working closely with its clients to ensure a seamless and successful event for those seeking the best wedding caterer Boise has to offer.
