January 27, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Budapest, Hungary based office space provider FRoffice Coworking would like to announce the availability of affordable coworking offices and meeting rooms in Budapest. The company provides a number of spaces that are perfectly suited to the needs of all kinds of companies. Each space is tailor-made for the client who rents it, and comes equipped with all the tools required to have a healthy, pleasant working environment.

Freelancers in search of a base from which to work, entrepreneurs looking for flexible office that can match the fast pace of their ever-growing business and every entity in-between can find what they are looking for at FRoffice Coworking. The office spaces offered by the company are flexible enough that almost any professional will find that all their requirements are met. Even a company that only requires a workstation, office or meeting room on an ad hoc basis will soon learn that the offices at FRoffice Coworking can meet the needs of almost anyone. As the office space provider says, "FRoffice is your coworking office where you can personalize the office design that suits you best."

One huge advantage FRoffice Coworking offers over similar services is flexibility. As they state, "FRoffice is flexible because you can rent a full office, meeting room or workstation for 1 year or even one day. Our premises are available during the weekdays or during weekends without any problems. You can enter the office building with your own gate code, no need for a key or wake-up call. You can change the dates before the rental starts or even cancel them so customers will not lose your calendar overnight. What's more, if you suddenly need a room or just ad hoc for a quick meeting, presentation or language lesson, this is no problem at FRoffice either. Our office is dog-friendly, so your most loyal companion can be with you all day while you work."

The company continues, "The office includes all the amenities you could possibly want for photocopying, printing and other work-related activities. This is no different for FRoffice's separate meeting rooms. Our meeting room for 8-10 people is equipped with a large screen TV and a flipchart, so you only need your presentation and persuasion to succeed. Our bright mastermind room, comfortably furnished with warm colours for 4-16 people, welcomes all participants to a cosy interior that can greatly influence the atmosphere of a meeting, training session or workshop. Furthermore, our 2-person coaching room has everything you could feel is necessary for confidential or high-level conversations.?

The success of a company?s negotiations with a potential business partner can rely heavily on where the meeting is held. An inadequately furnished room can make it difficult for one?s clients to settle down and feel comfortable while a warm, welcoming space has been shown to boost the creativity and openness of its occupant. Similarly, a harsh environment can create feelings of anxiety and mistrust. The offices at FROffice ensure that this is never a major concern for any of their clients. The offices are fully furnished and designed to be so comfortable as to allow business to go smoothly.

A number of customers have left great reviews of FROffice Coworking?s facilities. One 5-Star review on Google Maps says, ?Favourable location, guaranteed interior. Design is really cool at the reception! One of the meeting rooms has a Wifi TV that is very comfortable for presentation. Part of the office has a London-themed interior, which is nice because I live/work up there.?

Another review on the same platform states, ?Recently renovated spaces are my personal favourites in the office. Comfortable chairs and armchairs guarantee that my lunch can always be consumed in a 5-Star environment. Meeting rooms are also professional!?

In order to access their building, enter the inner corridor through the gate secured with a pass code at Lehel Utca 14. The passcode can be obtained through the company?s website. The second door can be opened using the same passcode. Once here, one need only look out for navigation signs pointing to FROffice. Turn left twice to reach the stairway to the mezzanine, and the FROffice Coworking?s frosted glass main entrance can be found there.

For more information, visit FROffice Coworking either on their website or on Facebook. Their customer service team is also available in the event interested parties wish to follow up on any inquiries.
