

Alpine Awards, A Leading Awards Store in Burlingame, CA Promotes Their New Direct Color System Printing Methods

January 23, 2020

January 23, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Burlingame, Ca. ? Alpine Awards has proposed their newest addition to the company, a new programming for printing. The program is called the Direct Color System Printing, or DCS, methods. The DCS will create a new revolution for the engraving store in Burlingame, CA. The DCS employs technologically advanced techniques in the printing industry and Alpine Awards is grateful to be able to use it.

The Direct Color System Printing methods will make many of their products higher quality. This program allows for fully vibrant color printing onto almost any surface with the use of UV light adhesion.

Alpine Awards shares the DCS will affect the following products: ?acrylic awards and plaques, bottles and cylindrical printing, cell phone and tablet cases, golf balls, sign printing, Braille ADA compliant signage, 3D texture and wood printing, photo ID, industrial labeling and serial plate printing.?

Alpine Awards provides quality and affordable services for awards, plaques, trophies, engraving and even promotional items. With this new technology, Alpine Awards is able to carry more specialized items such as phone cases that can be purchased and have the company logo or any other preferred photo or words printed on it. This can be a way to gift employees or clients for each holiday without having to think too hard or break the bank. Having multiple options to be able to personalize for someone in the time of need can make this a revolutionary achievement for Alpine Awards, a trophy shop in Burlingame, CA.
