

Chicago Medical Society Publishes Anthony Pellegrino Article On Tax Planning

February 18, 2020

February 18, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Oakbrook Terrace, Illinois based Goldstone Financial Group is pleased to announce that the Chicago Medical Society has published Anthony Pellegrino new article "A Tax Upon Your House," which emphasizes the essential tax planning everyone in America should undertake. It is crucial reading for anyone who wants to understand how to include tax-deferred and tax-free money in their tax plan. The full article can be read here: cmsdocs.org/news/a-tax-upon-your-house.

Anthony Pellegrino, Principal at Goldstone Financial Group, says, "We believe your financial future is far too important to leave to chance. Whatever your goals are, we can leverage our expertise to help realize them. Now is the best time to think about your goals for minimizing your taxes going forward to ensure you reduce your tax overhead as much possible in 2020 and develop a tax plan going forward. Just give us a call, and let us help you take advantage of all the ways you can benefit."

Those who watch CBS 2's program "Securing Your Financial Future" will have heard co-hosts Anthony and Michael Pellegrino speak on many subjects throughout the year to help everyone take charge of their financial affairs and expand their wealth. Through the Pellegrinos, Goldstone Financial Group has continued to help many Americans understand their financial affairs.

Goldstone Financial Group was recently featured in The Wall Street Journal's Midwest Wealth Guide, an essential reference for individuals and businesses who want to ensure that they make the most of their income, savings and investments. Their WSJ Midwest Wealth profile can be read in full here: <https://www.financialservicedirectory.com/uploads/curriculum-vitae/goldstone-financial-group-274116.pdf>.

The firm is also noted for developing new strategies that have the potential to provide their clients financial peace of mind in retirement. They strive to support fair growth in good years while minimizing the effect of bad years. As mentioned in their WSJ profile, the firm is, "committed to help create confident investors through potentially lower risk, lower volatility investing with active management."

Since the 2008 financial crash and the prolonged economic downturn, many people have questioned the value of "buy and hold" assets and consequently sought strategies that balance wealth building with wealth privatization. Understanding their clients' goals and planning for any market downturns is an important aspect of the work that Goldstone Financial Group undertakes. Due to their high profile and sincere concerns about helping everyone secure their financial future, they are often asked to comment on various aspects of financial management.

USA Today recently featured the firm in an article that discussed how best a person may fund their retirement and ensure an uninterrupted source of income for the rest of their lives. Their advice is invaluable to those who want to find out how they can develop multiple sources of income to ensure that their retirement years are truly their best years.

On the Google platform, Dina Riccardo gave the firm a 5-Star rating, saying she was, "In pre-retirement stage of life and needed an advisor for my financial goals and future. Saw Anthony P. on TV and looked him up online. When I saw that they had offices in Oakbrook, I was excited. They were such great people to get information and advice from. In other experiences with other planners, I felt pressured and, at times, confused. Michael P. really help develop a personal plan for me to be more than comfortable. The whole team at Goldstone has been so professional and a pleasure to work with. So happy to know that I have people I trust helping me to make my future secure. Gives me a lot of peace of mind."

Anthony Pellegrino states, "The whole team here is always delighted to see feedback from those we have had the privilege to help online. We simply feel it is our mission to help everyone secure their financial futures, making the most of the good years and minimizing the effects of any downturns, especially in the years just before retirement. Watch our videos, read our articles and connect with us through social media to learn more. We invite your questions and will strive to help you reach your financial goals."

Goldstone Financial Group makes many of their resources available through their Financial Services Directory, which provides details of their trusted network of local financial planners, wealth managers and retirement planners. The firm has 18 specialties listed there, including College Planning, Elder Care Planning, Estate Planning, IRAs and 401k Rollover, in addition to several others. At this time of year, their Tax Advice and Tax Planning services are always in demand.
