January 31, 2020 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Tax House Miami has just announced that they have improved their website and are taking other measures to give their customers a better overall experience with them. Those at this reputable South Florida tax services provider proclaim this is all part of their commitment to being the best at what they do. That's why this business that is co-owned by three brothers is taking concrete steps to make sure every aspect of their tax assistance service stays as progressive as possible.

Company President Gus Rodriguez Jr, had this to say about the updated website, "As business owners, sometimes my brothers and I get caught up in the day to day operations of the business and some things get left behind. We noticed that was the case with our website. It needed some serious upgrading to help serve our tax customers better. We got together with the staff and got some valuable input as to how we could improve the website. The result was an updated website that looks great and makes it easy for our customers to quickly find their way to the important information they need about us."

Mr. Rodriguez said that a large majority of the website has been improved. He says the drop-down menus are now easier to use than ever before and the website now lists more ways to contact them. The co-owner says that the resources section of the website has been significantly improved as well. They have also updated the client portal and added menu sections that make scheduling appointments and making payments to them much simpler. Rodriguez stated that so far the response to the new website has been overwhelmingly favorable.

The goal of the company goes well beyond doing skilled tax preparation, according to the owner. Rodriguez had this to say about their company's approach to doing taxes, "We have never been a service that just views tax returns as a government-mandated task that has to meet a certain deadline. Although it certainly is that, it's also an opportunity for me and my staff to try and help hard-working individuals keep some of the money they have earned by working tirelessly all year long at their jobs.? He indicated that he, his brothers, and the rest of the staff are constantly updating their accounting and tax knowledge to help maximize their customers' returns.

Mr. Rodriguez also says that he, his brothers, and their staff strive to do everything possible to bring a pleasant overall tax experience to their customers. He says the improved website is just a part of that. They also emphasize the value of good customer service to everyone on the staff and they seek to create a more family-type atmosphere with their customers. This approach to doing business has resulted in very favorable ratings from those that have used the services that Tax House Miami offers. Here is what recent customer Pablo Urquiaga had to say about this tax service in his recent 5 out of 5-star review, ?I have been using Tax house for years and I couldn't be happier. Gus and his staff do a great job of educating their clients by explaining the process and always offering tips on how to make the most out of your income. I would definitely recommend their services to anyone who wants a solid Tax team in their corner.?

Mr. Rodriguez mentioned that Tax House Miami also tries to make things easier for both their individual and business customers by working out of two branches. In addition to the Miami tax preparation office, there is another office located in Coral Gables. He also wanted to remind people that the company does more than just tax returns. They offer other helpful services such as accounting software selection & implementation, IRS representation, business consulting, and financial analysis.

For those that want more information on this respected Miami income tax preparer, Mr. Rodriguez says they are always happy to answer questions over the phone and they respond very quickly to their customers' email inquiries.
