January 30, 2020 -
Orange County signage provider Anaheim Signs is pleased to announce they are offering an unprecedented 10-year warranty on lighted signs. The company makes and installs building signs and letters, custom business signs, lighted channel letters and much more. The new warranties make this a good time to get a sign from Anaheim Signs. The company designs and assembles signs within a very short space of time, taking roughly one or two weeks to complete a project in most cases (or even one or two days if the client is in a rush). Read about the company at the following link: Sign Company Orange County.

There are a lot of signage services on offer from the company, all of which are aimed at increasing the visibility of their clients? businesses. ?The design of your business signs in Orange County should be developed in such a way to be persuasive, memorable, visible and practical,? the company says. ?Produce your business sign in such a way that it will leave a mark in the minds of all who pass by. Your sign design is also important in the branding of your business, since it will assist you to convey your message more effectively. The sign design will depend on the subject or the style of your building and colors. We will provide initial sketches that will show where the signage or text will be placed, where the logos will be positioned, where the highest most impactful signs will go and what colors are best for texts and for the background.?

Businesses in search of an energy efficient signage solution can find what they are looking for in Anaheim Signs? channel letters. They can light up businesses for everyone to see using solar power packs as well, which means they can still be used even when there is no electricity available. The company makes halo lighted letters, where the light glows around the back of the letters to create a halo effect. They can also make the business? logo and lettering light up in many different styles. All of this is accomplished using low voltage LED lighting that offers a greater deal of energy efficiency than most other lighting alternatives. Read more about lighted building letters online at their website and other online resources.

Businesses in search of 3D building letter installations can find them at Anaheim Signs. ?There are many ways you can mount or install different types of 3D building letters and dimensional lettered signs,? the company says. ?Most often, the 3D letters attach to a surface permanently, with a silicon adhesive which will last years. We can make metal letters, plastic, acrylic and many other types of materials. There are many types of surfaces, each of which may require a different attachment method. An installer will have to determine the best method of attachment for each unique sign letter project. A licensed sign contractor will have the needed experience to determine the best method of attachment.?

Many clients have worked with the signage company and found themselves quite pleased with the results. ?Rick provided great service,? says one Google review. ?His communication was quick and accurate, and his quote was great from the start. He showed up on time when he said he would and even helped us with an address number that a painter had knocked off our building. Great to work with every step of the way, I highly recommend you contact him if you're looking for signage.?

Another Google review says, ?The signs look great! Actually, they probably look better without the little stars. Thanks, Rick, for everything. It was a pleasure doing business with you, and my salon would not have looked this good without you. I'll definitely know who to call for my next salon. Thank you again!?
